Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

123taxi.be presents itself as a local taxi and airport-transfer service serving Antwerp, Belgium, and surrounding areas. The homepage describes passenger transport, airport and cruise-terminal journeys, fixed fares, reservation options, telephone contact, and payment-related surcharges, indicating a conventional paid-ride and online-booking business model.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site presents a plausible local transport service and the captured page contains no explicit brand-impersonation or phishing indicators. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by a confirmed blacklist status and malicious detections from external security services, including detections by Fortinet and Sophos. The browsing assessment also recorded hidden forms across both observed runs, substantial interaction-driven page changes, and suspicious network behavior. These findings create a material risk for sensitive interactions even though the visible form was categorized as a booking form rather than a password form. No suspicious contact-email anomaly was identified in the supplied evidence.

EVIDENCE

- External reputation telemetry recorded 11 malicious and 1 suspicious detection, with the domain present on an external blacklist.
- The homepage was categorized as a local taxi/transport service with no visible login form, while browser interaction testing detected hidden forms in 2 of 2 runs.
- Browser testing recorded 197 maximum post-interaction DOM changes and a suspicious-network interpretation despite successful page loading.
- Domain history showed no suspicious repurposing or semantic category drift.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The website's apparent business activity is ordinary passenger transport and airport transfer, but the captured homepage does not identify a legal operating entity or display a licence or registration number. The operator's real-world identity therefore remains unverified, and the available page content does not independently establish transport authorization or corporate accountability. The long registration history and continuous archival presence are useful provenance signals, but they do not neutralize the confirmed external reputation problem or substitute for regulatory verification.

EVIDENCE

- The domain was registered on 2011-08-30 and is recorded as 14.98 years old.
- Web archives contain 27 snapshots across 12 tracked years, from 2015-12-15 to 2026-05-11.
- Confirmed technical evidence identifies hosting on AS47583, operated by AS-HOSTINGER / Hostinger International Limited, CY.
- The site uses a DV TLS certificate issued by YE2, valid to 2026-10-04.

What to Verify Next

Before any booking or payment commitment, an independent check should confirm that the operating business is registered with the applicable Belgian commercial and transport authorities and is authorized to provide the advertised services. Contact details should be validated through an independently sourced business listing or offline channel rather than relying solely on the website. Any payment process should be checked for the named merchant, transaction protections, cancellation terms, and a clear route for disputes; credentials or unrelated personal information should not be submitted through the site.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides a single booking workflow that should be checked for its submission destination and payment recipient before use.
- The captured page contains service and fare information but does not provide the legal-entity or authorization details needed for independent regulatory confirmation.
- The site's transport claims should be matched against an independently obtained operator record before a reservation is finalized.

Summary Verdict

The website should be treated as an untrusted destination for sensitive interaction. Its credible-looking commercial presentation and established technical history do not overcome the confirmed external reputation contradictions, while the operator identity remains unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

No CDN or WAF vendor was detected, and resolution identified two likely origin addresses rather than an edge-protected deployment. This describes the hosting posture only; it offers no basis for treating the operator as legitimate and provides limited mitigation against the external reputation concerns.

Closing Assessment

Restrict activity to non-sensitive observation until independent business, authorization, contact, and payment checks have been completed; credentials and financial details should not be submitted in the interim.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about 123taxi.be at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
