Full analysis

Security Alert

Kaspersky flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

The website is a local car-insurance lead-generation landing page for “24 Car7 Insurance,” presenting coverage options, affordability claims, 24/7 support, and quote-request functionality intended to generate insurance-policy or agent leads.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site presents a conventional insurance proposition rather than an inherently suspicious product, and page analysis found no login form, credential-harvesting flow, cryptocurrency feature, or apparent brand impersonation. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by confirmed external threat detections: the domain is blacklisted, five evaluated detections classified it as malicious, and one classified it as suspicious. Two suspicious inline scripts were also observed during behavioral analysis. These signals create a material risk that the site or its infrastructure may be associated with harmful activity despite the ordinary appearance of the homepage. No identity contradiction between legal entities was observed, but the operator identity remains unverified.

EVIDENCE

- External reputation assessment recorded 5 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection, including a Tier-1 detection from Kaspersky; blacklist status was confirmed by two external sources.
- Homepage analysis identified one ordinary quote lead form, with no login form, hidden sensitive form, external password submission, wallet connection, or cryptocurrency flow.
- The domain was registered in 2017 and is approximately 9.24 years old.
- Archive records show 20 snapshots spanning 2017–2025, with 9 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About, Contact, and homepage materials describe an insurance service and quote process but do not state a license, licensing authority, or license number. The available evidence therefore does not establish that the operator is authorized to sell insurance in the relevant jurisdiction. The site publishes a San Diego address and contact information, but the real-world operator is not independently verified and governance disclosures are unclear. These are regulatory and identity-verification gaps rather than standalone proof of fraud; the confirmed blacklist and threat detections are addressed separately above.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes liability, collision, and comprehensive coverage, but no license or registration number is claimed in the available business disclosures.
- Hosting was identified as AS22611, InMotion Hosting, Inc., United States.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by YR1 at DV validation level and is valid through 2026-11-08T17:01:37+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any quote request or submission of personal information, an independent check should confirm that the named insurance provider or agent is licensed with the applicable state insurance regulator. The legal entity behind the service should also be matched against the regulator's records and the independently verified business address, while any proposed policy should be validated through an insurer's established, independently sourced contact channel. Any payment request should be assessed for clear policy documentation, identifiable underwriting responsibility, cancellation terms, and payment-protection options.

EVIDENCE

- The Contact page provides the address and contact route that require independent matching to a licensed entity.
- The quote workflow is a lead form rather than a documented policy-purchase interface, so the eventual insurer and handling of submitted information require confirmation.
- The About and homepage content makes service and support claims without independently verifiable licensing details.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk, driven by a convergence of confirmed blacklist status and malicious external detections that materially outweigh the site’s conventional insurance presentation and stable technical operation. The website’s real-world operator and authorization remain unverified, so sensitive interaction cannot be treated as trustworthy.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves to a single likely origin hosted by InMotion Hosting, Inc. in the United States on AS22611, with no CDN detected. Its transport encryption is valid, but the direct hosting posture provides limited mitigation against the reputation-based risk identified above.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should restrict activity to non-sensitive viewing until independent identity, authorization, and transaction-protection checks have been completed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about 24car7insurance.org at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
