Full analysis

Overview

2 Océans is a French consultancy website presenting intelligence-economy services for organisations in the Grand Est region, including audits, advice, training, strategic support, research, and analysis, with an apparent fee-for-service business model.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The website's visible content is coherent with a small professional consultancy and does not show login forms, payment flows, credential-collection mechanisms, financial products, or apparent brand impersonation. However, this benign page presentation is materially contradicted by external reputation evidence: the domain is recorded as blacklisted by two external sources, including four malicious and one suspicious detection. That contradiction takes precedence over the informational appearance of the homepage and creates a significant risk for sensitive interaction. No conflicting legal-entity names or confirmed phishing indicators were observed in the supplied page content.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: describes “2 Océans” as an independent intelligence-economy consultancy offering audit, advice, awareness, training, research, and analysis.
- Homepage and site behavior: no login form, hidden sensitive form, wallet connection, credential submission, or payment flow was detected.
- External reputation telemetry: 4 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection were recorded; blacklist status was reported by 2 external sources.
- Registration and archive telemetry: registered 2020-05-06 (~6.28 years old); 8 archive snapshots spanning 2021-11-23 to 2025-04-15 across 5 tracked years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site identifies itself as “2 Océans” and links to legal notices and a privacy policy, but the supplied material does not independently verify the operator behind that name. The available disclosure state is therefore insufficient for a regulated engagement or sensitive commercial relationship. No licence claim or licence number is presented in the supplied business and legal content; for a consultancy, that is a disclosure point requiring context rather than, by itself, evidence of wrongdoing. The site’s low page-authority signal and external blacklist status further weaken reliance on its self-description, while a separate broker-reputation dataset produced no match.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: displays the name “2 Océans,” describes the firm as independent, and provides links labelled “Mentions légales” and “Politique de confidentialité.”
- Legal/business content: no licence authority or licence number is stated in the supplied material.
- Hosting telemetry: served from AS16276, OVH - OVH SAS, FR.
- TLS telemetry: certificate issued by YE2, domain validation (DV), valid to 2026-11-11.

What to Verify Next

Before any engagement, independently confirm the legal entity, responsible individual, business address, and contractual counterpart through official French corporate records or an offline contact route. Confirm whether the proposed consultancy activity requires any professional authorisation and, where applicable, validate it with the relevant authority. Any statement that results in transfer of confidential information, access to systems, or payment should be supported by a signed contract, independently verified banking details, and a separately sourced contact channel.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: identifies the business as an intelligence-economy consultancy operating in the Grand Est region.
- Site navigation: provides “À propos,” “Nous contacter,” legal-notice, and privacy-policy entry points for identity and contractual review.
- Business-model evidence: describes fee-for-service audits, consulting, training, and research rather than a deposit-taking or investment service.
- Identity status: the available evidence does not independently connect the site to a verified real-world operator.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk because a coherent corporate presentation is outweighed by confirmed external blacklist contradictions and unresolved operator identity. The site may be informational in appearance, but the available evidence does not support treating it as suitable for sensitive interaction.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by a CDN/WAF layer, with observed edge infrastructure associated with OVH - OVH SAS in France; the observed addresses are on AS16276 and no origin candidate was visible. This infrastructure provides some exposure mitigation, but it cannot offset the external reputation contradiction.

Closing Assessment

Passive review may be limited to publicly available content; credentials, confidential information, system access, and payments should not be provided unless the operator and transaction details have been independently validated through trusted channels.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about 2oceans.fr at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
