Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Kaspersky, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

A Chinese-language landing page for 365okh.com presents a loading screen with brief claims about encryption, security testing, and being a “20-year-old brand”; it does not show a defined service, pricing model, transaction flow, or clear business purpose.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site presents a minimal, non-transactional surface, but that benign appearance is outweighed by confirmed blacklist and malicious-detection signals from external security services. Seventeen malicious detections and one suspicious detection were recorded, with detections from multiple established security vendors; this is a direct contradiction to the page’s implied security assurance and supports a high-risk assessment for sensitive interaction. The available capture does not show a login form, payment form, wallet connection, or overt brand impersonation, but the absence of those elements does not neutralize the external threat findings. No distinct legal-entity identity contradiction was observed.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage is a Chinese-language splash page displaying “Loading 73.0%,” “passed security encryption detection,” and a “20-year-old brand” claim, with no visible service or transaction flow.
- External reputation checks recorded 17 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection, including signals from Fortinet, Kaspersky, and Sophos; the domain is also recorded as blacklisted.
- The domain was registered on 2025-12-29 and is recorded as approximately 0.64 years old.
- Historical records identify activity from 2021-11-23 through 2026-05-13, covering 6 tracked years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available site presentation does not independently establish the operator’s legal identity, licensing status, or regulatory authority. No license claim, licensing authority, or registration number is stated in the supplied content, and governance and ownership transparency remain insufficient for a financial or regulated engagement. A valid transport certificate and identifiable hosting provider are infrastructure facts, not evidence that the operator is licensed or legitimate.

EVIDENCE

- The available disclosure material contains no stated licensing authority or registration number.
- The domain registrar is Spaceship, Inc.
- The site is served through AS13335, CLOUDFLARENET — Cloudflare, Inc., US.
- TLS is issued by WE1 at DV validation level and is valid to 2026-10-06.

What to Verify Next

Before any engagement beyond passive viewing, the operator’s legal name should be matched against the relevant corporate and financial-services registries, and any claimed authorization should be confirmed directly with the issuing regulator. Official support and contact channels should be confirmed through an independent, offline route. Security teams should also review the domain and any subsequent destinations in a controlled environment before permitting credential, payment, or other sensitive access.

EVIDENCE

- The supplied site material does not provide an independently verified operator identity.
- The site does not identify a regulator or licensing authority for the asserted business activity.
- The visible page exposes no authenticated or transactional workflow that can establish a legitimate operating relationship.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk, with the site unsuitable for sensitive interaction. The external threat evidence is sufficiently serious that the page’s security claims and technically valid transport encryption cannot support a trustworthy-use conclusion.

Infrastructure Integrity

Cloudflare CDN/WAF protection and edge delivery through AS13335 provide a mitigating layer against direct exposure of the hosting environment, but they do not establish operator legitimacy or offset the external reputation findings. All observed addresses were Cloudflare edge servers, and the origin server IP was not observable in this analysis.

Closing Assessment

Activity should remain limited to passive observation until independent legal, regulatory, contact-channel, and security checks produce affirmative evidence supporting safe engagement.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about 365okh.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
