Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

Abrakadabra is a Spanish-language website presenting itself as an independent Peruvian marketing and creative agency, offering brand strategy, social media, digital strategy, audiovisual production, corporate events, interior design, illustration, and related fee-based services to business clients.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's visible content is consistent with a conventional corporate marketing agency: the homepage contains substantial service descriptions, a mission and vision, portfolio-oriented marketing language, and a standard contact form, with no login interface, financial solicitation, cryptocurrency functionality, or credential-harvesting behavior identified. However, this benign presentation is materially outweighed by confirmed external threat indicators: the domain has been blacklisted, and external scanners recorded multiple malicious detections, including detections from two major security vendors. These are direct contradictions to the site's apparently ordinary business presentation. No on-page impersonation or phishing interface was identified, but the external reputation evidence supports a critical risk posture for sensitive interaction.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: describes Abrakadabra as an independent Peruvian marketing agency and presents a single non-sensitive contact form.
- External reputation telemetry: 12 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection were recorded; a confirmed blacklist hit was also present.
- Domain provenance telemetry: registration continuity indicates an age of 7.512662559890486 years; the archive record reports 0 snapshots, first seen 2013-06-09T15:52:30Z and last seen 2025-12-29T15:05:13Z, with 13 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The website's stated activity is the provision of marketing and design services rather than a regulated financial offering. Its legal and identity disclosure is therefore the relevant verification issue: the available material does not establish the real-world operator behind the "ABRA KADABRA" presentation, and no license claim or license number is shown. This is a transparency and contracting concern, not by itself evidence of a scam, but the unverified identity is significant when considered alongside the confirmed external blacklist finding. The domain is registered through 1API GmbH, while the transport certificate is domain-validated rather than an organizational identity certificate. No matching broker warning was identified in the available third-party broker context.

EVIDENCE

- Identity/about content: identifies the business as a Peruvian independent agency but does not independently establish its legal entity.
- Regulatory disclosure: no license authority or license number is presented on the available site content.
- Registration telemetry: registrar listed as 1API GmbH.
- Hosting and TLS telemetry: hosted on AS13335 (CLOUDFLARENET - Cloudflare, Inc., US); TLS certificate issued by WE1 at DV validation level, valid to 2026-11-10T18:33:05+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any credential, payment, file-transfer, or contractual interaction, the prospective counterparty should independently confirm the agency's legal name, registration status, physical business presence, and authorized representatives through official Peruvian business records or an independently sourced offline contact. Any proposed engagement should also use a payment method with dispute and fraud protections, and supplied documents or contact details should be validated through a separately obtained channel rather than relying solely on the website.

EVIDENCE

- About page: provides a business description and mission statement but not independently verified operator details.
- Contact page: provides a standard contact/booking mechanism that should be corroborated through an independent channel before sensitive exchange.
- Service pages: describe fee-based agency work, so the contracting entity and payment beneficiary should be matched before engagement.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk. Although the website presents coherent corporate content and no malicious interaction was observed during page inspection, the confirmed external blacklist and malicious-detection evidence dominate the assessment, while the operator's real-world identity remains unverified. Sensitive interaction is not supported by the available evidence.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare's CDN and WAF, and all observed addresses were CDN edge servers rather than an observable origin server. This provides a meaningful layer of traffic filtering and origin exposure reduction, but it is only a mitigating infrastructure characteristic and does not resolve the site's external reputation risk.

Closing Assessment

Passive viewing is the only proportionate use at present; credentials, payments, file uploads, and other sensitive exchanges should be withheld unless independent identity and channel validation are completed through trusted external sources.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about abrakadabra.com.pe at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
