Full analysis

Overview

The website is the public-facing presence of AFP Capital, a Chilean pension fund administrator. It presents retirement-saving information, account access, pension and fund-value tools, customer support, branch information, and online services for individuals and employers; its apparent business model is the administration of mandatory and voluntary retirement assets.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed: the supplied evidence contains no phishing, brand-impersonation, malicious-content, or adverse reputation findings. The site's substantial operating history, consistent archival presence, established traffic footprint, and business-specific content support an apparently legitimate presentation. Runtime testing did identify elevated external communications and console errors, but these were not accompanied by hidden forms, external password submission, cloaking, wallet activity, or other abuse mechanisms; they are therefore best treated as implementation and monitoring observations rather than evidence of impersonation.

EVIDENCE

- The registration record shows the domain was created on 2007-09-12; age 18.92 years.
- The web archive records 176 snapshots from 2008-07-31 through 2026-07-02, spanning 19 tracked years.
- The homepage presents AFP Capital branding, pension-related services, support channels, and account access without identified phishing or impersonation indicators.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious detections, with a traffic rank of 140345 and inclusion in the top 1 million domains.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents a corporate pension-administration model involving mandatory retirement savings, voluntary savings products including APV, fund-unit values, pension simulators, account services, branches, and customer support. Its pages include regulatory links and corporate contact information, but the supplied content does not state a license number or independently verified authorization; this is a regulatory-disclosure gap rather than evidence of a scam. The registration record names NIC Chile as registrar and AFP CAPITAL S.A. as the registrant, while the available analysis still does not independently verify that the website operator and that legal entity are the same. A valid, mainstream-issued transport certificate and stable enterprise hosting provide technical integrity signals, but neither establishes regulatory authorization.

EVIDENCE

- The registration record lists NIC Chile as registrar and AFP CAPITAL S.A. as owner.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by Amazon RSA 2048 M04, uses DV validation, and is valid to 2026-10-14.
- The homepage and service pages provide corporate contact details, branch information, and links described as regulatory resources.
- The site describes pension administration and related financial services but supplies no license number or claimed authorization in the reviewed content.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an independent check should confirm that the legal entity identified in the relevant official registry is authorized for the pension services described. Contact details should be validated through an independently sourced official channel, and account-access procedures should be compared with established communications from the relevant pension provider. Applicable fees, transaction terms, complaint routes, and payment protections should also be reviewed before material financial action.

EVIDENCE

- The site's regulatory and corporate-information links provide starting points for confirming the relevant legal entity and authorization.
- The contact and branch pages provide channels that can be cross-checked against an independently sourced registry or official statement.
- The login and service pages identify the account-access and transaction areas requiring the greatest care before credentials or financial instructions are submitted.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence supports a high-trust, low-risk posture for an established, apparently legitimate website. The classification is well supported by converging content, historical, technical, and external-reputation signals, while the real-world connection between the website and its stated operator remains independently unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF services, and observed addresses were CDN edge infrastructure rather than an identified origin server. This reduces direct exposure of the underlying service and is a mitigating infrastructure signal, not proof of organizational legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- Served through Cloudflare CDN/WAF; observed edge addresses were 52.223.20.138 and 76.223.116.239.
- Hosted on AS16509, AMAZON-02 - Amazon.com, Inc., US.
- The transport layer presented a valid DV certificate issued by Amazon RSA 2048 M04.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary use may proceed with proportionate diligence, but independent confirmation of the provider's identity, applicable authorization, service terms, and payment protections should precede credential submission or financially consequential interactions.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about afpcapital.cl at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
