Full analysis

Overview

AgentMart is a digital marketplace for reusable AI-agent resources, including prompts, workflows, playbooks, research packs, templates, and automation assets. It presents a model in which human users or automated agents purchase digital goods with USDC on Base, while the platform manages checkout, delivery, and seller payouts for a stated 3% fee.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No confirmed contradictions were observed. The available checks found no phishing, brand-impersonation, malicious-content, or confirmed blacklist indicators, and the homepage presents a coherent marketplace purpose rather than guaranteed returns or deceptive investment claims. The use of on-chain USDC payments creates transaction-recovery and counterparty considerations, but that feature is not itself evidence of impersonation or fraud. A separate abuse-report signal was attributed to shared provider infrastructure, was whitelisted with zero confidence, and was discounted because it did not specifically implicate AgentMart.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies AgentMart as a marketplace for prompts, workflows, templates, and other reusable agent resources, with no detected phishing or brand-impersonation indicators.
- Behavioral testing recorded no external network posts, no hidden forms, no wallet-drainer activity, and no cloaking.
- The shared provider IP had 97 abuse reports, but the reports were attributed to shared infrastructure, marked whitelisted, and assigned a confidence score of 0.
- The archive recorded 53 snapshots spanning 2026, with 1 year tracked and no detected suspicious repurposing or semantic category change.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site appears to operate as a digital-goods marketplace rather than presenting itself as a regulated financial institution, but the available material does not independently verify the real-world operator. The homepage does not provide a license or registration number, and legal-entity and governance disclosures are limited; this is a transparency matter requiring confirmation rather than evidence of a scam. The marketplace mechanics, including automated payouts and wallet-based settlement, warrant review of the operator's terms, refund treatment, dispute process, and responsibility for digital-resource quality before material transactions. No matching third-party broker-reputation record was identified.

EVIDENCE

- Domain registration: created 2026-03-04 and recorded as approximately 0.58 years old; registrar: Squarespace Domains LLC.
- Hosting infrastructure: served from AS16509, Amazon.com, Inc., US.
- Transport security: TLS certificate issued by YR2 at DV validation level, valid to 2026-12-06.
- The homepage contains no license claim, license authority, or license number.

What to Verify Next

Before high-value purchases or sensitive account activity, confirm the legal operator, governing terms, refund and dispute arrangements, and the official support channels through an independently sourced route. Confirm that the receiving wallet, payment amount, seller identity, and downloaded resource correspond to the intended transaction, and retain transaction records because on-chain payments may not be reversible through conventional card-payment mechanisms. Any applicable licensing or registration status should be checked against the relevant jurisdictional registry rather than inferred from the website.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage directs automated agents to a separate `skill.md` onboarding document for registration and autonomous buying or selling.
- The homepage states that buyers sign USDC payments on Base and that seller delivery and payout occur automatically.
- The homepage provides marketplace navigation and seller-oriented onboarding but does not present a conventional sensitive-data form.
- The analyzed page returned a stable HTTP 200 response during all three recorded runs.

Summary Verdict

AgentMart has a moderate-trust posture: the site presents a coherent commercial purpose and exhibited no confirmed scam or impersonation contradiction, but the operator's independent identity and governance disclosures remain insufficiently established for unrestricted reliance. Normal browsing and limited, proportionate interaction are consistent with the available evidence; higher-value or sensitive activity warrants confirmation of the counterparty and transaction safeguards.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, with observed traffic resolving to an edge address rather than an independently visible origin. This reduces direct origin exposure and is a mitigating security characteristic, but protective hosting infrastructure does not establish the operator's legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should keep initial exposure proportionate, confirm the counterparty and transaction details independently, and reserve substantial funds or sensitive actions until the site's operator and dispute protections have been satisfactorily established.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about agentmart.store at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
