Full analysis

Overview

Ahly-1X2 is a soccer-prediction and betting-advisory website presenting paid “VIP” tickets, fixed-match predictions, football tips, half-time/full-time selections, and historical ticket archives, with the apparent business model of selling purportedly certain betting outcomes through direct contact.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No confirmed phishing, impersonation, malicious-content, or identity-contradiction signals were observed. However, the homepage presents “100% sure” games, “no risk” profit claims, “fixed” matches, and VIP offers with total odds above 200, while directing prospective buyers to contact channels and pay before receiving the service. These are high-risk commercial claims because the site provides no independently verifiable basis for certainty, outcome integrity, or the value being purchased. The concern is therefore concentrated on the site’s own business model and evidence gap rather than on a confirmed impersonation finding.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage advertises four VIP games with “TOTAL ODDS OVER 200.00” and describes them as “100% SURE / FROM TRUSTED SOURCE.”
- The homepage offers fixed-match and HT/FT predictions, “tomorrow sure wins,” and VIP tickets marketed as producing extra profit “without any risk.”
- Historical coverage records 137 archive snapshots spanning 2014–2026, with 13 years tracked; this establishes persistence of the web presence but does not validate the betting claims.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site’s apparent gambling-advisory activity warrants regulatory and consumer-protection scrutiny. The available page evidence does not identify a licensing authority or license number, and the operator’s real-world identity remains unverified; this is a material verification gap for a service soliciting payment for purportedly guaranteed outcomes, but it is not by itself evidence of a scam. The domain is registered through Internet Domain Service BS Corp. Limited external reputation coverage did not record a confirmed malicious finding, while the absence of a broker-dataset match is only contextual and does not establish authorization or legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presents paid betting services but does not state a licensing authority or license number.
- Domain registration records show registration on 2014-09-18, with an age of 11.93 years, through Internet Domain Service BS Corp.
- The site’s transport encryption uses a TLS certificate issued by WE1 with DV validation, valid until 2026-11-02T17:18:01+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any payment or sensitive interaction, an independent check should confirm whether the service is authorized in the relevant gambling jurisdiction and whether the named operating entity can be verified through an official registry. The payment recipient, refund terms, dispute route, and evidence supporting any claimed match-fixing or guaranteed results should also be established independently rather than through the site’s own contact path. Any contact channel used for a transaction should be confirmed through an independent, offline or otherwise trusted route.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage is the primary source for the service claims and provides no independently verifiable proof of outcome certainty.
- The purchase flow described on the homepage relies on direct contact for pricing and service delivery rather than a clearly documented merchant process.
- The site’s legal and identity disclosures should be checked against an official gambling regulator and the proposed payment recipient before funds are transferred.

Summary Verdict

The website presents a critical sensitive-interaction risk. Its established online persistence and basic transport security do not offset the combination of unverified operator identity, unsupported certainty claims, and a payment-before-service model. The overall posture is unsuitable for credentials, financial transactions, or reliance on the advertised outcomes.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, and the observed addresses are CDN edge servers rather than a directly exposed origin. This reduces direct infrastructure exposure and is a mitigating technical control, but it does not authenticate the operator or validate the site’s commercial claims.

EVIDENCE

- Served from AS13335 (Cloudflare, Inc.; CLOUDFLARENET, US).
- Four observed edge addresses were associated with Cloudflare, with zero likely origin candidates identified.
- The site's TLS certificate uses WE1 as issuer and DV validation.

Closing Assessment

The appropriate posture is passive review only; account creation, credential submission, payment, and other financially consequential interaction should not proceed unless the operator, authorization, payment protections, and service claims have been independently validated.

Written analysis generated 2026-08-20 by the TrustSniffer Analysis Engine from the evidence in this report.

What the analysis found

1 finding contributed to this verdict, raised by registration and ownership.

01 Governance Risk

- The registration record withholds contact details for the operator.

Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_HIDDEN
- Registration details are held behind a privacy service, so no operator is named publicly. This is common and legal, and it also means there is nobody to check.

Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_PRIVATE

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about ahly-1x2.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
