Full analysis

Overview

Akamus is an apparently legitimate cultural and ensemble website presenting concert dates, ticket links, recordings, videos, press and award information, newsletter registration, and support or donation options, with German-language content and an English option; its apparent business model is promotion of performances and related ticket, publicity, and supporter activity.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No blacklist, phishing, malware, or confirmed impersonation contradictions were observed. The site's content is coherent with an arts-and-events organization: the homepage and calendar present named concerts, venues, dates, ticket links, ensemble information, and recordings rather than investment, cryptocurrency, or credential-harvesting offers. The contact, newsletter, and support functions do not expose a password or other sensitive login form. A naming similarity to another domain was recorded as a soft look-alike signal, but the available content does not substantiate impersonation. One abuse report concerns a shared provider IP; it has zero confidence and was discounted because the report applies to shared infrastructure rather than being attributed specifically to this website.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and calendar identify Akamus performances, including Mozart, Bach, and opera programs, with venue, date, time, and ticket information.
- The site's forms consist of one newsletter subscription form; no login form, hidden form, wallet connection, or password submission was detected during observed interaction.
- Registration continuity dates to 2001, making the domain approximately 25.33 years old.
- The observed archive record contains 103 snapshots spanning 2001–2026, with 26 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents an arts and performance model rather than a financial-services offering, and no financial-service license, registration number, or regulatory authority is claimed on the reviewed pages. This is a transparency point for any payment or donation transaction, not evidence of a scam in the context of the stated business model. The navigation exposes Contact, Impressum, Datenschutz, and cookie-settings pages, while links to YouTube, Instagram, and Facebook provide three established social channels. Independent operator identity is therefore likely but not verified to a real-world legal entity in the supplied evidence. The absence of a matching third-party broker record is a contextual reputational signal only and is not a licensing determination.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage navigation links to "Kontakt," "Impressum," "Datenschutz," and "Datenschutzeinstellungen."
- The reviewed site content makes no financial-license claim and provides no license number or licensing authority.
- The website is served from AS8560, IONOS-AS – IONOS SE, DE.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by Sectigo Public Server Authentication CA DV R36, uses DV validation, and is valid to 2026-11-24T23:59:59+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before a ticket, donation, or other payment interaction, the prospective counterparty should independently confirm the legal organizer named in the Impressum, inspect the applicable ticket cancellation and return terms, and ensure that the payment page belongs to the expected ticketing or donation provider. Contact channels should be confirmed through an independently sourced route, and any required consumer payment protection should be retained for the transaction.

EVIDENCE

- The site provides dedicated Contact and Impressum pages for identity and organizer checks.
- Ticket links are presented alongside individual concert listings on the calendar.
- Support and donation information is exposed through the site's "Freunde" and related supporter content.
- The site offers a multilingual option, allowing the relevant terms and transaction information to be reviewed in English where available.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate, low-risk cultural website, and no scam or impersonation contradiction was observed. The principal qualification is that the real-world operator identity is not independently verified by the supplied evidence, so the site's legitimacy should be regarded as strongly supported rather than proven.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by a CDN/WAF arrangement, with observed edge infrastructure and potential origin candidates. This provides a meaningful mitigation against direct exposure and abusive traffic, but protective hosting remains an infrastructure control rather than proof of the operator's identity or legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- CDN/WAF protection was observed in the site's infrastructure resolution.
- Two edge servers and two potential origin candidates were identified during infrastructure analysis.
- The infrastructure resolved consistently during the observed technical runs.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing and ordinary event-related use are proportionate to the evidence, while independent merchant-identity, return-policy, and payment-protection checks should be completed before credentials or payment details are submitted.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about akamus.de at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
