Full analysis

Overview

The website presents Alebtida as an Iraqi corporate supplier and project-services business focused on electrical power distribution, lighting, industrial controls, contracting, manufacturing, and related infrastructure solutions for commercial and industrial customers.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's substantive pages present a conventional corporate-supplier profile and do not show a login form, sensitive submission form, or explicit brand-impersonation indicator. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by a confirmed external blacklist status and multiple malicious detections associated with the domain, creating a material risk for sensitive interaction. The browsing assessment also identified suspicious inline scripts and a small synthetic-response signal; these technical indicators are not proof of malicious content by themselves, but they reinforce the need for a security-forward posture. No conflicting legal identities or direct impersonation indicators were observed.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage contains corporate supplier content, product descriptions, contact information, and no login or sensitive form.
- External reputation assessment recorded 3 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection, with the domain listed on 2 external blacklist sources.
- The behavioral assessment recorded 6 suspicious inline scripts and a synthetic-response ratio of 1.3%.
- Domain registration: 2015-03-10T15:18:10Z through 2027-03-10T15:18:10Z; registered in 2015 (~11.45 years old). Archive coverage records 903 snapshots spanning 2011–2026 (16 years tracked).

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About and homepage content describes an Iraqi company established in 2003 and claims official-distributor relationships with Schneider Electric, Signify, and SOCOMEC. The stated business model is commercial supply and project services rather than a financial or investment offering, and the site provides showroom, service, and contact information. Nevertheless, the site does not state a licensing authority or registration number, and its legal disclosure is therefore insufficient for independent regulatory confirmation. The apparent business identity is supported by the site's established content and linked social presence, but identity verification remains incomplete; the external blacklist signal must be treated as a serious reputational warning rather than as a substitute for a legal determination.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies Alebtida as an Iraqi power-distribution supplier, states "Since 2003," and describes official-distributor relationships with Schneider Electric, Signify, and SOCOMEC.
- The About, Contact, and homepage content provides business sectors, showroom addresses, customer-care details, and service descriptions, but no licensing authority or license number.
- The domain is registered through Launchpad.com Inc.
- TLS uses issuer WE1 with DV validation and is valid to 2026-09-30T08:54:24+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive engagement, independently confirm the company's Iraqi commercial registration and the claimed distributor authorizations directly with the relevant manufacturer and registry. Contact details should be cross-checked through an independently sourced business directory, manufacturer partner listing, or offline channel rather than relying solely on the website. Any quotation, purchase, advance payment, or project appointment should also be validated through documented contracting terms, invoicing details, delivery obligations, and payment-protection controls.

EVIDENCE

- Registry check: confirm the legal entity and commercial registration with the applicable Iraqi authority.
- Manufacturer check: confirm the claimed Schneider Electric, Signify, and SOCOMEC relationships through those manufacturers' independent partner channels.
- Contact-channel check: validate showroom and customer-care details using an independent source.
- Transaction check: require written terms covering supplier identity, payment destination, delivery, warranty, and dispute handling.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is low trust with elevated risk for sensitive interaction. The site's corporate presentation and apparent commercial identity are not sufficient to overcome the confirmed external reputation contradictions, so credentials, payments, and other high-impact actions should not be treated as ordinary website activity.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare's CDN/WAF infrastructure. All observed addresses are CDN edge servers on AS13335, and no origin candidate was identified; this reduces direct exposure of the hosting environment but also limits independent assessment of the underlying origin. Protective edge infrastructure is a mitigating control only and does not establish site legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- Served from AS13335 (CLOUDFLARENET - Cloudflare, Inc., US); observed edge IP count: 4; likely origin IP count: 0.
- TLS certificate issuer: WE1; validation level: DV; valid to 2026-09-30T08:54:24+00:00.
- The hosting infrastructure is identified in the US and registered through ARIN.

Closing Assessment

Sensitive interaction should remain on hold until the independent identity, authorization, and transaction checks are completed and the external reputation concern is satisfactorily resolved.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about alebtida.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
