Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

This website presents itself as the corporate site of a regional renewable-energy contracting and general-trading company, offering engineering, supply, installation, consulting, training, and after-sales services for commercial and residential customers.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's polished corporate presentation and renewable-energy business model do not resolve a material external threat signal. Reputation telemetry recorded six malicious detections and a confirmed blacklist hit, including a Tier-1 security-vendor detection. This creates a significant risk for sensitive interaction despite the absence of an obvious login form, wallet function, payment form, or overt brand-impersonation pattern on the captured homepage. The supplied content does not show two competing legal-entity names or an explicit impersonation claim, but the confirmed blacklist status is sufficient to require a security-forward posture.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presents a corporate renewable-energy business with substantial textual content, but the page analysis identified no login form, sensitive form, hidden form, or wallet-connection behavior.
- External reputation telemetry recorded 6 malicious detections and 0 suspicious detections.
- External reputation telemetry recorded a confirmed blacklist hit; the evaluated general safe-browsing check was not malicious.
- Domain registration evidence records 2002-09-18 as the creation date, making the domain 23.94 years old; archival records show 354 snapshots spanning 2002–2025, with 24 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About and homepage content identifies “Alhadbaa Company for Contracting & General Trading Ltd.” and claims operation since 1991, with offices in Mosul and Erbil, activity in Dubai, and international dealings. It describes solar PV, wind-power, solar irrigation, water-heating, installation, engineering-consulting, training, and after-sales services. These are on-site representations rather than independently verified proof of the operating entity. The available identity verification is therefore unverified, and ownership and governance disclosure remain unclear. The supplied pages do not state a licensing authority or license number; this is a regulatory-transparency gap, not by itself proof of fraud. A broker-focused third-party dataset recorded no match.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and About content identify Alhadbaa Company for Contracting & General Trading Ltd. and describe the claimed corporate history and operating locations.
- The homepage lists renewable-energy services, projects, testimonials, training, consulting, and contact details, but no license authority or license number is supplied.
- The site is hosted on AS15169 (Google LLC / Google Cloud).
- The site uses a valid DV TLS certificate issued by YR2, valid to 2026-10-30T14:46:44+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive or commercial engagement, an independent corporate-registry check should confirm the legal entity, operating status, and authority of the named offices. Any required Iraqi or other jurisdictional contracting, engineering, trading, or training permissions should be confirmed directly with the relevant regulator. Project references, contractual counterparties, payment instructions, warranties, and return or remediation terms should be validated through independently obtained contact channels rather than relying solely on information supplied by the site.

EVIDENCE

- The About and Contact pages provide the identity and location claims that require independent corporate confirmation.
- The described contracting, installation, consulting, and training activities provide the basis for checking applicable sector permissions.
- The site’s project and testimonial material provides the basis for independently validating references and counterparties.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk. The site may represent a genuine corporate business, but its apparent legitimacy is outweighed for security decision-making by confirmed external malicious and blacklist signals, while the real-world operator remains unverified. Sensitive interaction should not be treated as acceptable on the present evidence.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves through a direct hosting arrangement with no detected CDN or WAF layer, and no edge-to-origin separation was identified. This provides limited infrastructure-based mitigation and cannot offset the external reputation risk.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should restrict activity to passive review until the operator, regulatory standing, project references, and transaction arrangements have been independently confirmed; credential submission, financial activity, and other sensitive interactions should remain withheld in the interim.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about alhadbaa.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
