Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

Apeksha Learning Point is a local educational and tutoring website presenting courses, teaching methods, faculty information, frequently asked questions, blog content, social-media links, and a contact form for prospective student enquiries, demo sessions, counselling, and enrolment.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The principal risk is not the site's stated education model, which appears ordinary and contains no observed login form, credential-collection mechanism, wallet function, or other high-risk interaction. The material concern is external: the domain has confirmed blacklist status and multiple malicious detections, including a Tier-1 detection attributed to Fortinet. These findings create a material contradiction with the otherwise benign tutoring presentation and warrant treating the domain as unsuitable for sensitive interaction until independently resolved. No distinct legal-entity identity contradiction or brand-impersonation finding was established, so the external reputation evidence should not be converted into a definitive conclusion about the real-world operator's identity.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes Apeksha Learning Point as a tutoring institute offering courses, interactive classes, smart-class teaching, practice, progress tracking, and small-batch instruction.
- The homepage contains one contact form and no login form, hidden form, password submission, wallet connection, or sensitive-form destination.
- External reputation telemetry recorded 3 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, and a blacklist hit from both VT and external blacklist sources.
- The domain was first seen in archival records on 2018-10-24 and last seen on 2024-12-20, with 7 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents an education or course-enrolment business rather than a clearly regulated financial service. No licence, registration number, or licensing authority is claimed in the supplied site evidence; this is a disclosure gap requiring verification, not by itself proof of misconduct. The site's apparent identity is supported by institutional content and links to Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and LinkedIn, but the operator's legal identity remains only likely rather than independently verified. The confirmed blacklist status should remain the dominant trust concern, while the absence of a broker-dataset match provides no affirmative regulatory assurance.

EVIDENCE

- The business model is described on the homepage and contact/enrolment content as paid classes, demo sessions, tests, counselling, and direct registration.
- The site includes About Us, Our Approach, Courses, Faculty, FAQ, Contact, and Job Vacancies pages, but the supplied evidence contains no licence number or named licensing authority.
- The domain was registered through GoDaddy.com, LLC on 2018-04-14 and has an age of 8.36 years.
- The site's transport encryption uses a DV certificate issued by YR2, valid until 2026-09-19.

What to Verify Next

Before any enrolment, payment, or submission of personal information, an institution or prospective student should independently confirm the centre's physical operating identity, payment recipient, course-fee terms, refund conditions, and the authenticity of its published social profiles through an offline channel. Any applicable education-sector registration or local business authorisation should be checked directly with the relevant official registry. The blacklist and malicious-detection findings should also be rechecked through the responsible security providers to determine whether they are current, domain-specific, or the result of a false positive.

EVIDENCE

- The Contact page provides the stated route for enquiries and enrolment, making it the appropriate page for checking the consistency of business details.
- The Courses, FAQ, and enrolment materials are the relevant pages for confirming fees, services, cancellation terms, and representations made to students.
- The About Us and faculty materials are the relevant pages for independently matching the claimed institution and personnel to external, offline records.

Summary Verdict

The website has a critical trust posture because confirmed external threat detections and blacklist status outweigh the otherwise conventional educational content and stable technical presentation. Its apparent business identity is plausible but not proven, and the available evidence does not support treating sensitive interaction with the domain as acceptable.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves to a single likely origin hosted through PUBLIC-DOMAIN-REGISTRY - PDR, US, on AS394695, with no CDN detected in the supplied infrastructure assessment. A valid mainstream TLS deployment is a positive transport-security control, but it does not establish operator legitimacy or offset the external reputation findings.

Closing Assessment

Sensitive actions should not proceed on the basis of the website alone; independent offline confirmation and resolution of the security detections should precede any enrolment, payment, or personal-data submission.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about apekshalearningpoint.in at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
