Full analysis

Overview

The website at apply.mil.gh presents itself as a Ghana Armed Forces recruitment and applicant-intake portal, providing eligibility information, service-branch guidance, application instructions, e-voucher directions, contact details, and an application workflow that collects candidate information and issues application identifiers.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed: the available evidence shows no phishing, impersonation, blacklist, or malicious-content finding. The homepage explicitly states that there are no authorized middlemen, that advertised vacancies are not for sale, and that purported agents may be prosecuted, which is consistent with an effort to address recruitment-related impersonation. One external reputation check recorded a single suspicious result, but no malicious result or confirmed blacklist finding was present; this remains an isolated, unconfirmed reputational signal rather than evidence of a scam. The site's recruitment content, detailed application guidance, and absence of detected fraud indicators support the authoritative low-risk assessment, while the real-world operator identity remains independently unverified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the service as “GAF | Recruitment” and provides application guidance, eligibility requirements, service categories, and anti-middleman warnings.
- The domain was registered on 2022-04-01 and is approximately 4.36 years old.
- Historical coverage records 328 archive snapshots from 2022-05-16 through 2026-07-04, spanning 5 tracked years.
- External reputation results recorded 0 malicious detections, 1 suspicious detection, and no external blacklist finding; the site had a Tranco rank of 109427.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site's apparent purpose is public-sector recruitment rather than financial intermediation, so a financial-services license is not the relevant legitimacy test. No license claim or license number is presented in the supplied site content. The portal does provide application instructions, contact information, privacy/consent material, and a vendor list associated with advertising and analytics, but the available evidence does not independently verify that the website is operated by the Ghana Armed Forces. A registration record lists “General Headquarters(Ghana Armed Forces)” as the organization and “The Director” as the owner, which is supportive context but not conclusive proof of real-world control. The certificate uses domain validation rather than an organization-validated identity certificate. A broker-reputation dataset recorded no match.

EVIDENCE

- The registration record lists registrar NITA Admin and organization “General Headquarters(Ghana Armed Forces).”
- The site is served from AS13335, CLOUDFLARENET — Cloudflare, Inc., US.
- The site's TLS certificate was issued by WE1 at DV validation level and is valid through 2026-10-13T07:15:47+00:00.
- The homepage and application content describe the Ghana Armed Forces recruitment process but do not present an independently verified operator credential or license number.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an applicant should confirm the current recruitment announcement and portal details through an independently sourced Ghana Armed Forces channel, rather than relying solely on contact details presented on the site. The e-voucher purchase route and payment recipient should be checked for consistency with the official recruitment notice, with transaction records retained. The privacy and consent terms should also be reviewed before submitting the application form, particularly because the workflow requests personal and educational information.

EVIDENCE

- The application flow contains one sensitive application/contact form.
- The site provides a dedicated “How to Apply” process covering card serial and PIN details, service selection, biodata, and educational information.
- The homepage identifies “My Application” and application-summary functions, indicating that applicant records are created and accessed through the portal.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence supports a high-trust, low-risk posture consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website. This conclusion reflects the site's content, continuity, technical operation, and external reputation signals; it does not independently prove the identity of the real-world operator.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, with all observed addresses identified as Cloudflare edge servers and no origin server address observed in the analysis. This is a mitigating control that reduces direct origin exposure, but it is not proof of institutional ownership or legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary use is proportionate to the current assessment, provided that independent confirmation of the recruitment notice, payment route, and official contact channels is completed before sensitive information or funds are submitted.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about apply.mil.gh at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
