Full analysis

Overview

ApplySquad is a commercial, paid job-application outsourcing service that presents visitors with targeted job matching, tailored cover letters, application submission, plan-based pricing, testimonials, and a money-back guarantee. Its apparent business model is to charge individuals for submitting applications on their behalf while assisting with employer-account setup and job-search administration.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No scam, phishing, impersonation, blacklist, or other direct contradiction was observed. The homepage presents a conventional service model, including Starter, Pro, and Executive plans, a stated price of $99 for 30 applications at the Starter level, employer-account setup, tailored cover letters, and a claim of “25,000+” applications submitted worldwide. These claims and the displayed testimonials are commercial assertions rather than independently verified proof of performance, and the service’s handling of resumes and employer accounts creates a practical need for care around account permissions and personal information. The published contact address `info@example.come` is a contact-channel integrity anomaly because the top-level domain appears to be a deliverability-breaking typo or possible typosquat; this is not, by itself, evidence of a scam.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: The service describes job matching, application submission, employer-account creation, tailored cover letters, testimonials, and a refund guarantee.
- Homepage: The site provides sign-up and login functions but no hidden forms, external password forms, wallet-connect activity, clipboard manipulation, or cloaking indicators were observed.
- Registration record: Registered 2024-11-24 and approximately 1.74 years old through Gandi SAS.

Regulatory Verification Notes

ApplySquad is not presented as a regulated financial or professional-services entity, and no license or registration number is claimed on the supplied page content. The principal verification gap concerns the real-world operator behind the commercial service: identity is not independently verified, while the on-page disclosure state is unclear. This is a transparency and diligence matter, not an identity contradiction or evidence of fraudulent conduct. The available external reputation checks found no malicious or suspicious detections, no abuse reports, and no matching broker warning, although the site's low page-authority profile provides limited corroboration beyond the site itself.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: The business is presented as a paid job-application service with plan pricing, a money-back guarantee, and customer testimonials; no licensing disclosure is shown.
- Registration record: Registrar identified as Gandi SAS; creation date 2024-11-24T08:00:52Z and expiry date 2026-11-24T08:00:52Z.
- Transport encryption: TLS uses issuer YR1 with DV validation and is valid until 2026-09-22T07:08:15+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before a high-value purchase or granting access to employer accounts, confirm the operating legal entity, billing identity, refund conditions, and data-retention terms through documentation independent of the landing page. The service should also be assessed for the minimum permissions required to create or use third-party employment accounts, and payment should use a method offering appropriate dispute and consumer-protection mechanisms. Official support and contact channels should be confirmed through an independent route before sensitive information is submitted.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: The onboarding flow requests a resume, target roles, locations, experience, and dealbreakers before applications are submitted on the customer's behalf.
- Account workflow: The site exposes both sign-up and login forms, making account ownership, access controls, and credential-handling practices relevant to diligence.

Summary Verdict

ApplySquad presents as an apparently legitimate commercial service with no observed scam or impersonation contradiction, but its overall trust posture remains moderate rather than strongly established. The available evidence supports ordinary consideration of the service while leaving the operator's independent identity and accountability insufficiently confirmed.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by CDN/WAF infrastructure, with observed traffic resolving to an edge address and no origin candidate identified. This reduces direct origin exposure and is a mitigating security control, but it does not independently establish the operator’s legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- Hosting infrastructure: Served from AS16509, Amazon.com, Inc., United States; observed edge IP 76.76.21.21.
- Network posture: CDN present, one edge IP observed, and zero likely origin IPs identified.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should complete the stated identity, contractual, data-handling, and payment checks before committing substantial funds or granting access to sensitive employment accounts.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about applysquad.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
