Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

ASET's website presents a Brazilian corporate logistics business offering dedicated cargo transportation, customized delivery routes, service quotations, company information, contact channels, testimonials, and a newsletter, with an apparent business model based on freight services and commercial logistics engagements.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

Confirmed external reputation contradictions materially outweigh the site's otherwise conventional corporate presentation. The domain is blacklisted by multiple external sources, with six malicious detections and threat detections from Fortinet and Sophos. The homepage also states that its methodology provides "guaranteed profit," although no supporting evidence or mechanism is presented for that claim; this is inconsistent with the stated cargo-transport business model and creates a material claim-integrity concern. No separate conflicting legal-entity names or direct brand-impersonation indicators were identified, but the confirmed blacklist and malicious detections support a clearly cautionary posture for sensitive interaction.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: advertises dedicated cargo transport and states that the service provides “lucro garantido” (“guaranteed profit”) without supporting substantiation on the page.
- External reputation assessment: `vt_malicious` is `6` of `vt_evaluated` `true`; `tier_1_threat_detected` is `true`, with Fortinet and Sophos listed.
- External reputation assessment: `external_blacklist` is `true`; `gsb_malicious` is `false`.
- Domain registration record: registered `2021-01-22T00:00:00Z`, age `5.58` years, expiring `2027-01-22T00:00:00Z`.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site identifies itself as ASET and describes a logistics company, but the available evidence does not independently verify the real-world operator. The pages present an address, telephone number, email address, operating hours, services, and a code-of-conduct link, yet no licensing claim or license number is shown. For a transport provider, this is a regulatory and corporate-disclosure verification gap rather than, by itself, proof of fraud. The absence of a matching broker-dataset record provides no positive regulatory conclusion. The domain has an established registration period, but that administrative fact does not resolve the external threat findings or independently authenticate the operator.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage and contact content: identifies ASET, dedicated cargo transport services, a telephone number, a commercial email address, operating hours, and a physical location in Itaquaquetuba, Brazil.
- Legal and identity content: includes “Sobre nós” and “Código de Conduta” pages, but no license authority or license number is presented.
- Hosting telemetry: served from `AS31898` — `ORACLE-BMC-31898 - Oracle Corporation, US`.
- TLS telemetry: DV certificate issued by `YR1`, valid to `2026-11-09T19:32:01+00:00`.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive engagement, the operator’s legal existence and authority to provide the advertised transport services should be confirmed through independent Brazilian corporate and sector registries. The published address and telephone number should be validated through an offline or independently sourced channel, and commercial contracts should identify the contracting legal entity, payment beneficiary, liability terms, and insurance arrangements. Any external security detections should be resolved or explained by the operator before credentials, confidential business information, or funds are exchanged.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: presents the company name, address, telephone contact, service description, and quotation pathway that can be compared against independent records.
- About and conduct pages: provide the stated corporate description and governance materials for comparison with registry information.
- Contact and quotation functionality: offers commercial engagement through a contact form and service-quotation process.
- Historical technical record: `8` archive snapshots spanning `2021–2025`, with `5` years tracked.

Summary Verdict

The website has a corporate logistics presentation, but its overall trust posture is critical because confirmed external threat detections and blacklist status create a material risk for sensitive interaction. The available evidence is insufficient to establish that the online service can be safely connected to the stated real-world operator.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves to Oracle Corporation infrastructure in the United States on AS31898, with one observed IP and no CDN or WAF detected. A valid DV TLS certificate provides transport encryption, but hosting and encryption are infrastructure characteristics only and do not offset the reputation contradictions.

EVIDENCE

- Hosting infrastructure: `unique_ip_count` is `1`; `edge_ip_count` is `0`; `has_cdn` is `false`; `has_origin_candidates` is `false`.
- Network telemetry: server IP is `69.6.248.131`, country `US`, ASN `AS31898`, organization `ORACLE-BMC-31898 - Oracle Corporation, US`.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should restrict activity to non-sensitive viewing and avoid login, credential submission, confidential-data sharing, or financial transactions until the operator and the external security findings have been independently validated.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about asetcargas.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
