Full analysis

Overview

Backes Uniformes is an online retail storefront offering uniforms, accessories, and related apparel for SAMU, community and military firefighters, emergency responders, civil defense, and military police, with product listings, promotions, account functions, cart facilities, and contact details supporting direct sales.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed, including no phishing, brand-impersonation, or conflicting legal-identity findings. The homepage presents a coherent retail model rather than financial, investment, or cryptocurrency activity, and the account and search functions do not expose hidden forms, externally submitted password forms, wallet-connect behavior, or cloaking. Automated interaction testing did identify suspicious inline scripting, dynamic page changes, and some non-whitelisted external requests; these are technical behavior observations, but they were not corroborated by page-level fraud indicators, malicious detections, or abuse reports. The available evidence therefore supports an apparently legitimate, low-risk storefront while leaving the real-world operator identity independently unverified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presents uniform and apparel categories for SAMU, firefighters, emergency responders, civil defense, and military police, with no page-level fraud indicators.
- The homepage's account functionality was not associated with hidden forms, external password submission, wallet activity, or cloaking during automated interaction testing.
- The domain registration record shows registration on 2013-04-22, with an age of 13.34 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site provides dedicated About, Returns and Exchanges, and Contact pages, together with a telephone contact and physical address, which is consistent with an operating retail merchant. No regulated financial-service claim or license number is presented; for this apparent apparel business, that is a disclosure and merchant-verification matter rather than evidence of impersonation or fraud. The operator's real-world identity remains unverified independently. Available external reputation checks returned no malicious or suspicious detections, no abuse reports, and no adverse broker-reputation match, although reputation coverage was partial.

EVIDENCE

- The About, Returns and Exchanges, and Contact pages provide the site's primary identity, support, and returns disclosures.
- The site's transport encryption uses a DV certificate issued by YR1, valid through 2026-10-21.
- The hosting infrastructure is served from AS29802, HVC-AS – HIVELOCITY, Inc., US.
- Available external checks recorded 0 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, and 0 abuse reports; no blacklist finding was recorded.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an independent merchant-identity check should match the business information shown on the site against an authoritative commercial or governmental source. The returns terms should be reviewed for eligibility, time limits, delivery obligations, and refund mechanics, and payment should use a method offering appropriate buyer protection. Where a regulated authorization would be expected for a specific transaction or service, that authorization should be confirmed directly with the relevant registry; support channels should also be validated through an independently sourced route.

EVIDENCE

- The site includes separate pages for business information, returns and exchanges, and contact support.
- The storefront exposes account, cart, and direct-sales functions, making merchant and payment checks relevant before transaction completion.

Summary Verdict

The available evidence supports a high-trust, low-risk posture for an established-looking online retailer. The site appears legitimate and evidence-consistent, but the connection between the storefront and a verified real-world operator has not been independently established.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to infrastructure associated with HVC-AS – HIVELOCITY, Inc., rather than an identified CDN or WAF edge. This configuration provides less intermediary protection than a mainstream CDN deployment, but it is a neutral infrastructure characteristic and does not contradict the otherwise favorable assessment.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing is proportionate to the available evidence; account creation or payment should proceed after the ordinary independent merchant, returns, and payment-protection checks described above.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about backesuniformes.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
