Full analysis

Overview

What appears to be a Spanish-language online lingerie and intimate-apparel storefront, “Bolboreta íntimo” presents product categories, shopping functions, shipping and returns information, contact facilities, and a notice stating that it is a demonstration store where orders will not be completed. Its apparent business model is ordinary retail sales functionality rather than investment or financial services.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

A confirmed blacklist hit creates a material security concern and is the decisive contradiction in the assessment. This signal conflicts with the otherwise ordinary storefront presentation: the homepage identifies the site as a demo store, lists apparel such as pajamas, bras, underwear, bodysuits and hosiery, and the observed forms do not include a login or externally submitted password field. No brand impersonation, phishing behavior, credential-harvesting mechanism, or investment functionality was observed in the supplied page analysis. The blacklist status should nevertheless be treated as a direct reason to withhold trust from sensitive interactions, regardless of the benign retail content. The site’s identity is also not independently verified. Evidence:

- The homepage states that the store is for demonstration and that orders will not be completed; it presents product listings and standard shopping navigation.

- External reputation telemetry records a confirmed blacklist hit, together with isolated malicious and suspicious detections.
- The homepage and observed interaction flows contained no login form, hidden sensitive form, wallet connection, or external password submission.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site provides links to an “Aviso legal,” privacy policy, conditions of use, shipping, returns, secure payment, FAQ, and contact pages, which is consistent with a retail storefront but does not independently establish the operator’s real-world identity. The available material does not establish a regulated financial activity or a verified regulatory authorization; any applicable consumer-business registration and merchant identity therefore remain verification matters. The domain is established rather than newly registered, but its historical web presence is sparse, so that continuity should not be treated as proof of legitimacy. Evidence:

- The legal and policy navigation is visible from the homepage, including “Aviso legal,” “Política de privacidad,” and “Condiciones de uso.”
- Registered 2020-05-06; domain age 6.29 years; registration through OVH, SAS.
- 13 archive snapshots spanning 2021–2026, with 6 years tracked.
- Hosted on AS16276 (OVH - OVH SAS, FR); TLS certificate issued by YE1 with DV validation, valid to 2026-10-01.

What to Verify Next

Before any transaction or submission of personal information, an independent check should confirm the legal merchant name, business address, consumer-return obligations, and any applicable national or regional registration through authoritative public records rather than relying solely on the site’s own legal pages. The demonstration-store notice should also be confirmed through an independently obtained contact channel, and any payment process should be assessed for genuine payment-protection and chargeback support. Until the blacklist status is resolved and the operator is independently identified, login, credential entry, and payment activity should be withheld. Evidence:

- The homepage’s demonstration-store notice makes confirmation of whether commercial orders are actually accepted a necessary operational check.
- The legal, returns, contact, and payment pages provide the specific locations for validating merchant disclosures and transaction terms.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is low trust with elevated sensitive-interaction risk. The site presents coherent retail content and lacks observed credential-harvesting behavior, but those benign characteristics do not overcome the confirmed external reputation contradiction or the absence of independently verified operator identity.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by a CDN/WAF arrangement, and the observed addresses are CDN edge infrastructure associated with OVH rather than independently exposed origin infrastructure. This provides a mitigating layer against direct infrastructure exposure, but it is only a technical protection and does not validate the website’s reputation or operator.

Closing Assessment

The appropriate enterprise posture is to restrict activity to non-sensitive observation until independent merchant verification and resolution of the external reputation finding have been completed.

What the analysis found

2 findings contributed to this verdict, raised by registration and ownership, analysis engine, behaviour in a sandbox.

- 01 Governance Risk

 - The registration record withholds contact details for the operator.
Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_HIDDEN
 - Registration details are held behind a privacy service, so no operator is named publicly. This is common and legal, and it also means there is nobody to check.
Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_PRIVATE
- 02 Sensitive Interaction Risk

 - The analysis matched a pattern TrustSniffer treats as a direct threat to a visitor.
Analysis engine signal:direct_threat
 - The page rewrote itself after it was interacted with, so what a visitor first sees is not what they end up on.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about bolboretaintimo.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
