Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

This website presents a Taiwanese home- and hospital-caregiving service, offering caregiver dispatch, subsidy-application guidance, and referrals for services such as 24-hour care, emergency assistance, rehabilitation support, and temporary or short-term care. Its apparent business model is service coordination or caregiver-placement activity rather than financial or investment services.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's caregiving content is coherent and contains procedural information, service descriptions, and contact details; page analysis found no login form, sensitive data form, wallet connection, cloaking, or evident phishing behavior. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by confirmed blacklist findings and multiple external malicious detections, including a Tier-1 security-vendor detection. The result is a material contradiction between the apparent healthcare purpose and the site's external threat reputation. No separate identity inconsistency or brand-impersonation finding was observed, but the real-world operator remains independently unverified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes Taiwanese caregiving dispatch, subsidy eligibility, application deadlines, required documents, and home- and hospital-care services.
- The homepage was technically observed as free of login forms, hidden sensitive forms, wallet activity, clipboard manipulation, cloaking, and suspicious inline scripts.
- The domain was registered on 2018-07-24 and is approximately 8.08 years old.
- Historical records contain 479 snapshots spanning 2004–2026, covering 23 tracked years; no suspicious repurposing or semantic category drift was identified in the reconciled historical assessment.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site appears to operate in a caregiving and referral context, but the available material does not establish the legal identity of the operator or independently verify any applicable caregiving, employment-placement, healthcare, or subsidy-related authorization. No license claim or license number is presented in the supplied site evidence. This is a regulatory and disclosure-verification gap rather than, by itself, proof of fraud. A separate broker-reputation dataset found no match, but that result does not constitute licensing or regulatory approval. The confirmed external blacklist status remains the principal trust concern, despite the domain's established registration history and valid transport encryption.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides subsidy guidance and lists caregiving services but does not present a license authority or license number.
- The site is hosted on AS131149, YUANJHEN-AS-TW – Yuan-Jhen Info., Co., Ltd, TW.
- The transport certificate uses DV validation, is issued by YR2, and is valid through 2026-10-24T02:35:59+00:00.
- The page has no detected structured-data markup, canonical declaration, or meta description in the supplied technical observations.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive interaction, an institution should independently confirm the operator's legal identity, caregiving-service authorization, and relationship to the subsidy information with the relevant Taiwanese authority or hospital rather than relying solely on the website. Contact details should be validated through an independently sourced telephone number or an offline referral. Any proposed caregiver placement, fee, identity-document submission, or payment should be supported by a written agreement and verified payment-protection process. Until those checks are complete, activity should remain limited to passive review.

EVIDENCE

- The site's apparent business model involves caregiver placement, dispatch, and coordination, creating a need to validate the contracting entity before engagement.
- The homepage refers to municipal subsidy procedures and required supporting documents, which should be confirmed directly with the stated local authority.
- The site does not provide a supplied license number or licensing authority for independent confirmation.
- The operator identity is not independently verified in the available evidence.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk. The site's plausible caregiving presentation and stable technical characteristics do not overcome the confirmed external threat detections and blacklist status. Sensitive interaction should therefore be treated as unsuitable absent independent validation.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website uses CDN/WAF protection, with an observed edge server at 52.243.39.89 on AS8075 and a separate hosting path associated with Yuan-Jhen Info., Co., Ltd. This provides some mitigation against direct exposure and service disruption, but protective infrastructure is not evidence that the operator or content is legitimate.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users and institutions should defer login, credential submission, document sharing, payments, and caregiver engagement until the operator and service arrangements have been validated through independent official channels.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about bue.com.tw at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
