Full analysis

Overview

This is a corporate and institutional website presenting Groupe Caisse des Dépôts, its public-interest missions, long-term investment activities, sustainability commitments, news, investor information, reports, and career opportunities; its apparent model is institutional funding, asset management, territorial development, and delivery of public-policy services rather than direct consumer sales.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage and institutional navigation present a coherent public-sector and investment-group profile, with content covering regulated savings, ecological transition, territorial cohesion, governance, reports, press, and recruitment rather than opportunistic consumer offers. The site shows no observed login form, sensitive form, wallet interaction, hidden form, cloaking, or suspicious browser behavior. External reputation checks were clean, and the historical record shows sustained domain continuity consistent with an established site. The available evidence supports an apparently legitimate website, although it does not independently prove the real-world operator identity.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies “Groupe Caisse des Dépôts” and presents public-interest missions, sustainability, investor, press, and recruitment content; no red flags or brand-impersonation indicators were identified.
- The domain was registered in 1996 and is approximately 30.39 years old; registration is through NAMESHIELD.
- The site has 4,298 archive snapshots spanning 1998–2026, with 29 years tracked and a maximum observed gap of 1 year.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious detections, with the domain ranked 16043 in the cited global traffic dataset.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The legal and institutional substance is consistent with a public group and long-term investor serving public policy, including management of regulated savings and investment in territorial and ecological-transition initiatives. The reviewed content does not present a specific license number or third-party regulatory registration for a consumer-facing financial service; because the site describes an institutional and public-mandate model rather than direct consumer sales, this is a disclosure point requiring contextual confirmation, not evidence of a scam. A separate broker-reputation dataset produced no match, which is supportive context only and not a licensing or regulatory determination. The site's apparent legitimacy is therefore evidence-consistent, while independent operator identity verification remains incomplete.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and “Our missions,” “Our model,” “Our organisation,” investor, reports, and sustainability sections describe public mandates, regulated savings, investment, and institutional activities.
- The site's transport encryption uses an OV certificate issued by DigiCert Global G2 TLS RSA SHA256 2020 CA1 for CDC Informatique GIE, valid to 2026-12-23.
- Technical resolution identified AS20940, AKAMAI-ASN1 – Akamai International B.V., NL, as the serving network.
- The reviewed institutional and legal content does not display a specific consumer-service license number or third-party regulatory registration.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an enterprise or prospective counterparty should independently confirm the relevant legal entity and official contact routes through the site's identity, organisation, and press materials, then corroborate any claimed regulated activity with the appropriate public registry. Where a transaction or recruitment interaction leads outside the institutional site, the receiving party should also confirm the merchant or counterparty identity, applicable terms, return or cancellation provisions where relevant, and available payment protections through an independent channel.

EVIDENCE

- The “Our identity,” “Our organisation,” and “Our history” sections provide the principal on-site identity context for independent comparison.
- The investor, reports, and annual-results sections provide the relevant institutional and financial-disclosure material.
- The careers and recruitment sections define the site’s employment-related interaction surface.
- No sensitive form or untrusted form destination was observed during the reviewed homepage behavior.

Summary Verdict

The website has a high-trust, low-risk posture and is apparently legitimate, with strong convergence among its institutional content, long operating history, clean reputation, and technically credible presentation. The evidence is consistent with an established public institutional website, but the operator identity should still be treated as likely rather than independently proven.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Incapsula CDN/WAF infrastructure, and the observed addresses were CDN edge servers rather than an exposed origin. This is a mitigating security-control signal, not proof of legitimacy; the infrastructure record identifies Incapsula Inc. in the United States on AS19551, with two observed edge addresses, while the serving-network evidence also identifies Akamai International B.V. on AS20940.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing and ordinary institutional use are proportionate to the assessment, while independent merchant-identity, terms, and payment-protection checks should precede any credential submission or payment interaction.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about caissedesdepots.fr at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
