Full analysis

Overview

Caracol Radio is an established Colombian news and media website presenting national and regional news, sports, podcasts, live radio programming, and local updates. Its apparent business model is an ad-supported editorial platform supported by advertising, audience measurement, newsletters, sponsored content, and related commercial partnerships.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent news-publisher experience rather than a credential-harvesting, investment, or payment scheme; analysis found no phishing form, brand-impersonation indicator, wallet activity, cloaking, or malicious external reputation result. Behavioral collection did identify suspicious inline scripts, extensive third-party requests, and browser-console errors, but these appeared within an advertising- and tracking-oriented media environment and were not accompanied by sensitive forms, password submissions, clipboard activity, or other abuse patterns. The site therefore presents a low apparent scam or impersonation risk, while the real-world operator identity remains likely rather than independently verified. Evidence:

- The homepage is categorized as news/media and contains editorial topics, sports, podcasts, radio programming, and regional coverage, with no red flags identified.

- The domain was registered on 1998-07-17 and is approximately 28.1 years old.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious results, with no phishing or impersonation detection.
- The site has a traffic ranking of 30821 and is within the top 1 million sites globally.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available pages describe an editorial news and radio service, not a financial or other clearly regulated offering. No license claim or registration number is identified in the supplied site content; this is a transparency point for any regulated or commercial service engagement, not evidence of a scam. The available evidence supports an established, apparently legitimate website, but does not independently prove the legal entity operating it. Advertising, analytics, newsletter registration, and personalized-content consent are disclosed through the cookie interface and should be understood as part of the site's commercial operating model.

Evidence:

- The homepage provides cookie-consent language covering personalized advertising, audience measurement, device storage, geolocation, and data-profile sharing, and identifies 1,030 partners.
- The site is served from AS20940, operated by AKAMAI-ASN1 – Akamai International B.V., NL.
- The transport certificate is issued by YR2, uses DV validation, and is valid to 2026-09-21.
- The registered registrar is NETWORK SOLUTIONS, LLC.; registrant privacy is an administrative registration detail rather than an identity contradiction.

What to Verify Next

Before any credential or payment interaction, an institution or prospective user should independently confirm the responsible legal entity through authoritative corporate or publisher records and review the applicable privacy, subscription, advertising, and payment terms. Where a commercial transaction is offered, return or cancellation conditions and available payment protections should be checked before funds or personal information are committed. Official contact channels should be reached through independently accessed, established social accounts or other trusted references rather than relying solely on an on-page message. Evidence:

- The site navigation includes a dedicated Contact page.
- The homepage links to established social platforms including YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, TikTok, Twitch, and WhatsApp.
- The observed forms were limited to cookie consent, newsletter registration, and site search; no sensitive form was detected.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate, low-risk website suitable for ordinary informational use. The high-trust posture is supported by convergence across the site's mature publishing profile, clean reputation, stable technical operation, and long-standing domain presence, while operator identity should remain treated as likely rather than proven.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Akamai CDN/WAF infrastructure, which is a mitigating control that reduces direct exposure of the underlying service and provides resilient edge delivery. All observed addresses were CDN edge servers, and no origin server address was observable in this analysis; that infrastructure arrangement is normal for a large media website and is not, by itself, evidence of legitimacy. Evidence:

- Observed Akamai edge addresses were 2.19.126.160 and 2.19.126.162 on AS20940, plus 2001:2030:22::3e73:fd0b and 2001:2030:22::3e73:fd32 on AS1299.

Closing Assessment

Routine browsing and ordinary use are proportionate to the available risk posture; credential or payment interactions should follow independent operator-identity, applicable terms, and payment-protection checks before proceeding.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about caracol.com.co at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
