Full analysis

Overview

This website is a Japanese digital manga portal presenting serialized works, rankings, free-reading campaigns, new releases, and account-gated access to selected content. Its apparent business model is digital publishing supported by free and paid chapters, campaigns, account registration, and related commercial activity.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed, including no phishing, impersonation, blacklist, or malicious-content indicators. The homepage presents a coherent publishing proposition: manga listings, author and work credits, rankings, campaign-based free access, missions, and a daily free-gacha feature. Login and registration are present, but the observed forms did not submit sensitive data to an untrusted destination, and behavioral testing found no hidden forms, wallet activity, clipboard manipulation, cloaking, or suspicious scripts. The site's established web presence and clean external reputation are consistent with an apparently legitimate content service rather than an abuse-oriented operation.

EVIDENCE

- Domain registration record: registered 2014-09-17; age 11.91 years.
- Web archive: 1,706 snapshots from 2024-04-23 through 2026-08-09, covering 3 years.
- Homepage: manga rankings, author credits, free-chapter campaigns, missions, and account access are presented as an internally consistent publishing service.
- Observed site behavior: 2 successful runs; 0 hidden forms, 0 wallet-connect runs, 0 clipboard-write detections, and no cloaking classification.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site provides policy and publisher-copyright references and presents itself as associated with Akita Publishing, but that on-page presentation does not independently verify the real-world operator. The available evidence does not establish that the service is a regulated financial or investment activity, and no regulatory license number is evidenced; this is a disclosure point for ordinary commercial review rather than an indication of scam activity. The overall content, business model, and external reputation remain consistent with an established digital publishing website. A mid-level page-authority signal provides contextual support but is not, by itself, proof of corporate identity or authorization.

EVIDENCE

- Hosting telemetry: AS16509, Amazon.com, Inc., United States.
- TLS telemetry: Amazon RSA 2048 M01 certificate, DV validation, valid through 2026-12-15.
- Homepage and navigation: links to policies, publisher copyright information, manga works, rankings, and new-release content.
- Third-party broker-context check: no matching broker record was identified.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an enterprise or individual user should independently confirm the site's relationship with Akita Publishing through an official publisher-controlled channel. The terms, privacy, copyright, purchase, cancellation, and refund provisions should be reviewed, with payment-protection mechanisms confirmed before any paid transaction. Account registration should use a unique password, and any login or payment page should be checked for consistency with the independently confirmed official domain and contact channels.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides policy and publisher-copyright links suitable for independent review.
- The site offers both account registration and login, making credential-handling and account-recovery terms relevant to the review.
- The stated service model includes free and paid digital content, so purchase and refund conditions should be confirmed before payment.

Summary Verdict

The available evidence supports a high-trust, low-risk posture for an apparently established digital publishing website. Legitimacy is evidence-consistent and strongly supported by the coherent site content, stable operation, established presence, and clean reputation, while the real-world operator identity remains independently unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Amazon CloudFront CDN/WAF infrastructure, with observed traffic terminating on Amazon edge addresses and no origin candidates identified. This provides a meaningful layer of exposure mitigation and infrastructure consistency, but protective hosting remains a security control rather than proof of ownership.

EVIDENCE

- Infrastructure: 4 observed edge IPs, all associated with AS16509; likely origin IP count 0.
- CDN/WAF: Amazon CloudFront detected.
- Hosting organization: AMAZON-02 - Amazon.com, Inc., United States.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing and ordinary account or content use are proportionate to the current assessment, subject to independent confirmation of the publisher relationship and routine review of commercial and payment protections before transactions.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about championcross.jp at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
