Full analysis

Overview

The website is the informational and public-service site of the Comisión Nacional de los Derechos Humanos (CNDH), presenting human-rights complaint intake, recommendations, reports, educational resources, publications, press communications, and institutional contact information. Its apparent purpose is to support public access to Mexico's federal human-rights oversight and assistance services rather than to conduct commercial activity.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed across the reviewed pages and technical signals: there were no phishing or impersonation indicators, no malicious or suspicious reputation findings, and no suspicious form destinations or credential-capture mechanisms. The homepage presents a coherent public-service identity, including complaint submission, institutional recommendations, reports, and human-rights guidance, with no commercial inducement or abuse-oriented feature set. The available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website, although the real-world operator identity has not been independently verified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the service as “CNDH | Comisión Nacional de los Derechos Humanos” and provides complaint intake, recommendations, reports, educational material, and institutional contact information.
- The domain was registered in 1995 and is approximately 31.48 years old.
- Historical records contain 2,413 archive snapshots spanning 1997–2026, with 30 years tracked.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious findings, 0 suspicious findings, and no confirmed blacklist or phishing hit.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site's content is consistent with a Mexican public or governmental human-rights institution, and the homepage presents a statutory-style oversight function rather than a financial, brokerage, or merchant business. No commercial license claim or license number is presented in the reviewed content; in this context, that is a transparency point for institutional verification, not evidence of fraud. Registration records identify INFOTEC and AKKY ONLINE SOLUTIONS, S.A. DE C.V. as the recorded owner and registrar respectively, but those records do not independently prove that the website operator is the CNDH.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes complaint reception, legal-compliance monitoring, public recommendations, and institutional human-rights defense.
- The site is hosted on AS8151, identified as UNINET, MX.
- The site's TLS certificate is DV-validated, issued by RapidSSL TLS RSA CA G1, and valid through 2026-09-05.
- The reviewed pages contain no commercial licensing claim or license number.

What to Verify Next

For institutional assurance, compare the site's stated CNDH identity and published contact details with independently sourced Mexican public-sector or CNDH records. If the service later requests credentials, personal information, or payment, confirm that the interaction remains within the institution's independently verified channels and review the applicable privacy and user-protection terms before proceeding.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage publishes the telephone number 555490-7400 and an online complaint-intake function that can be compared against independently sourced institutional records.
- The reviewed page contained no login form, sensitive data form, hidden form, or untrusted form destination.
- Behavioral testing recorded no wallet connection, wallet-sensitive action, clipboard manipulation, cloaking, or suspicious inline script.

Summary Verdict

Overall posture is high trust and low risk, with the available evidence consistent with an established, apparently legitimate public-service website. The principal qualification is that the real-world operator identity remains independently unverified, so the legitimacy assessment should be understood as evidence-consistent rather than proven.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to a single likely origin address, with no detected CDN or WAF vendor and no edge-IP layer identified. This is a neutral architectural observation: it provides less intermediary shielding than a CDN-backed deployment, but it does not contradict the site's established and clean technical profile.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary informational use is proportionate to the assessed posture; any future credential or payment interaction should receive the standard independent identity, privacy, and payment-protection checks applied to sensitive online services.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about cndh.org.mx at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
