Full analysis

Overview

The website is a Japanese multi-brand online retailer presenting natural and organic beauty, personal-care, wellness, food, household, baby, maternity, and lifestyle products for sale through an ordinary ecommerce model.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, phishing behavior, brand impersonation, or other scam indicators were observed. The content is commercially coherent, product-focused, and consistent with the stated retail purpose; tested interactions also showed no credential-diversion, cloaking, wallet-draining, or clipboard-manipulation behavior.

- The homepage was classified as an online-store catalog, with no identified brand-impersonation indicators or content red flags.
- Reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious detections, with no malicious safe-browsing result or external threat-list hit.
- Behavioral testing completed 2 of 2 runs successfully and detected no hidden forms, external password forms, cloaking, suspicious inline scripts, wallet-provider activity, or clipboard hijacking.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents conventional consumer retail rather than a regulated financial, investment, brokerage, or cryptocurrency service. No licensing claim is made, but none is inherently required by the evidenced business model; the absence of financial authorization details therefore does not constitute a regulatory concern. No conflicting legal-entity names were identified in the analyzed content, and the available third-party broker context produced no relevant match.

- The homepage describes revenue-generating activity through direct sales of physical consumer merchandise rather than financial products.
- The analyzed homepage contained no cryptocurrency tokens, investment offers, leverage products, staking features, or financial-return claims.
- The site's transport encryption uses a WE1-issued domain-validated certificate, valid until 2026-09-22.

What to Verify Next

Standard ecommerce due diligence should focus on confirming the merchant name shown during checkout, reviewing delivery and return terms, and ensuring that payment confirmations and account communications remain consistent with the storefront identity. For material purchases, the official customer-service channel and applicable refund process should be retained independently of the order session.

- The homepage provides shopping-cart, customer-account, favorites, purchase-history, and store-list functions consistent with a functioning retail journey.
- All 76 observed external XHR requests were classified as permitted; no external POST requests or untrusted form destinations were detected.
- The homepage presents a substantial catalog across multiple consumer-product categories rather than a thin, parked, or solicitation-only page.

Summary Verdict

The website is a legitimate, established, and trustworthy ecommerce operation. Its coherent commercial identity, clean external reputation, stable behavior, and absence of contradictory threat indicators collectively support a high-confidence, low-risk posture.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site uses a mainstream CDN/WAF architecture that protects the public service and reduces direct exposure of its origin server. This is a meaningful security mitigation, although infrastructure protection alone is not treated as proof of legitimacy.

- The hosting infrastructure is served from AS13335 (Cloudflare, Inc.).
- All observed addresses—172.67.69.249, 104.26.0.176, and 104.26.1.176—were Cloudflare edge endpoints; the origin server was not exposed during the analysis.

Closing Assessment

Normal interaction, including account login, routine account activity, and standard purchases, is appropriate, subject to ordinary ecommerce precautions for payment records, delivery terms, and refunds.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about cosmekitchen-webstore.jp at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
