Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

This is a Dutch-language ecommerce storefront branded “Crazy Pianos Webshop,” presenting apparel and accessories such as shirts, hoodies, bags, caps, and hospitality merchandise with visible euro prices; its apparent business model is direct retail sales to horeca and hospitality customers.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site presents as a conventional merchandise shop, and the captured homepage showed no login form, hidden sensitive form, wallet connection, or unusual external network activity. However, those benign page-level characteristics are outweighed by a confirmed blacklist status and multiple external malicious or suspicious detections, including a tier-one security-provider flag. This is a material contradiction to the site's ordinary retail presentation and supports a high-risk posture for sensitive interactions. No separate identity inconsistency or brand-impersonation finding was recorded.

EVIDENCE

- The domain reputation assessment recorded 8 malicious and 3 suspicious detections, with one tier-one security provider flagging the domain.
- The domain was recorded as blacklisted by two external reputation sources.
- The homepage contained visible product listings and prices but no sensitive login form or hidden form requesting credentials.
- The domain was registered on 2020-05-01 and is approximately 6.4 years old; historical records show 33 snapshots spanning 2020–2025, with six years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The operator's real-world identity remains unverified, and the available legal or identity material does not establish a clearly accountable business entity. No licensing claim or registration number is recorded in the supplied site content; for an ordinary retail webshop this is primarily a disclosure and verification gap rather than, by itself, evidence of criminal conduct. The site's ownership and governance transparency are therefore insufficient to offset the external reputation findings. The available broker-reputation dataset contained no matching record, but that absence is contextual only and is not a licensing or regulatory determination.

EVIDENCE

- The site provides links to general terms, privacy, account, and tracking pages, but the supplied content does not record a clearly identified legal operator.
- No license claim, licensing authority, or license number is recorded in the analysed business information.
- The domain uses Realtime Register as registrar.
- The site is served from AS41960 operated by NEXTPERTISE – Nextpertise B.V., NL; its TLS certificate is DV, issued by YR2, and valid to 2026-10-15.

What to Verify Next

Before any account creation, payment, or submission of personal information, an independent party should confirm the legal seller, delivery and returns terms, and payment protections through sources not controlled by the website. The official support and contact channels should also be confirmed through an independent route, and any claimed business registration should be checked against the relevant Dutch commercial registry.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the storefront and product range but does not, in the supplied content, establish an independently verified operator identity.
- The site exposes terms and privacy pages, making those documents the appropriate locations for checking seller details, returns, and data-handling commitments.
- The site's checkout-oriented retail model makes seller identity and payment-protection checks directly relevant before a transaction.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is low trust, with the principal concern arising from confirmed external reputation contradictions rather than from the storefront's visible retail mechanics. The operator's identity is not independently verified, so the site cannot be treated as an established or reliably attributable merchant for sensitive use.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site has CDN/WAF protection, with one observed edge server and two potential origin candidates. This infrastructure provides some exposure mitigation, but protective routing is not evidence of legitimacy and does not neutralize the external reputation risk.

Closing Assessment

Passive viewing may be retained for limited reference, but sensitive interactions and transactions should be deferred until the seller and payment safeguards have been independently confirmed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about crazypianoswebshop.nl at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
