Full analysis

Overview

Logistic Supplier is a Spanish-language corporate website presenting a Costa Rican logistics and export-services business focused on transportation, freight forwarding, customs-related support, market studies, responsible commercialization of tropical products, and quote-driven services for exporters.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No scam, phishing, impersonation, blacklist, or identity-contradiction signals were observed. The homepage describes a coherent business model, including export logistics, transportation, advisory services, market studies, and service quotations, while the contact workflow is a conventional quote form rather than a login, credential-capture, wallet-connect, or payment-redirect mechanism. The available reputation evidence is clean, although coverage is not complete; this supports an apparently legitimate, low-risk assessment without independently proving the operator's real-world identity.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies “Logistic Supplier” as a Costa Rican company focused on export logistics and international markets.
- The services and contact pages present transportation, logistics, advisory, market-study, and quotation functions consistent with a corporate logistics business.
- The site contains no login form, hidden form, wallet interaction, password submission, or suspected brand-impersonation indicator.
- The domain was registered on 2017-12-11 and is recorded as 8.69 years old; its historical record is tracked from 2018-08-07 through 2025-07-10 across 8 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents itself as a Costa Rican company and states that its team has more than 15 years of international-trade experience. Those statements are business claims rather than independent proof of a legal entity or regulated status. The reviewed content does not state a license or registration number; for logistics, customs, freight, or advisory engagements, the applicable authority and authorization requirements should therefore be confirmed independently. This is a transparency and verification item, not evidence of a scam. The available third-party broker context contains no match, and the technical posture includes mainstream hosting and valid transport encryption.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and “Nosotros” content describe a Costa Rican capital base, export-market activity, and more than 15 years of international-commerce experience.
- Served from AS15169, Google LLC, United States.
- TLS certificate issued by YR1 with DV validation, valid to 2026-09-27 09:08:29 UTC.
- The reviewed service and contact pages do not display a license or registration number.

What to Verify Next

Before a commercial engagement, independently confirm the legal name and operating details of the contracting entity through the relevant Costa Rican corporate or sector registry. For customs, forwarding, or other regulated activities, confirm any applicable authorization directly with the competent authority. The quotation should identify the contracting party, scope of responsibility, charges, insurance or liability terms, cancellation conditions, and payment protections, with contact channels confirmed through an independently sourced route.

EVIDENCE

- The “Nosotros” page provides the site’s principal corporate and experience claims for independent comparison with registry information.
- The “Servicios” and quotation workflow define the operational scope that should be reflected in any written agreement.
- The contact page requests name, email, address, service selection, and shipment details, making confirmation of the receiving organization and data-handling process appropriate before submission.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence supports a high-trust, low-risk posture and is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate business website. The classification is strong, but the real-world operator identity remains independently unverified, so the site should be regarded as legitimate in appearance and evidence-consistent rather than identity-proven.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by CDN/WAF infrastructure, with observed traffic resolved to a Google-hosted edge address and no origin candidate identified in the analysis. This reduces direct origin exposure and is a mitigating control, but it is infrastructure protection rather than proof of the operator’s identity or business legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- CDN/WAF protection was detected; one observed edge IP was 35.212.25.55.
- The observed edge address belongs to AS15169, Google LLC, United States.
- No likely origin IP candidate was identified.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing and ordinary business evaluation are proportionate to the current evidence; before credentials or payment details are exchanged, independent merchant-identity, contractual, and payment-protection checks should be completed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about crlogisticsupplier.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
