Full analysis

Overview

CXTv is an established Portuguese-language streaming directory that provides free access to more than 2,000 live television channels and hundreds of public webcams worldwide, supported primarily by advertising, audience measurement, and personalized-ad services.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No scam, phishing, impersonation, or conflicting legal-identity indicators were observed. The homepage presents a coherent informational service, and monitored interactions showed no credential-harvesting forms, deceptive redirects, wallet access, clipboard manipulation, cloaking, or suspicious scripts. Its long-established domain and clean external reputation materially support the conclusion that CXTv is a legitimate website rather than a recently created imitation.

- The domain registration record identifies Felipe de Carvalho Kovacs ME and shows the domain was registered in 2013 (~13.59 years old), with registration valid through 2027.
- The homepage contained no sensitive or hidden forms and no active login form during analysis.
- The homepage and monitored interactions produced no detected brand impersonation, phishing behavior, cloaking, wallet access, or clipboard hijacking.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, no reported abuse, and an established top-one-million traffic presence.

Regulatory Verification Notes

CXTv presents an advertising-supported streaming and webcam directory, not a financial, investment, or deposit-taking service; consequently, the evidence provides no basis for expecting a financial-services licence. The material regulatory consideration is privacy: the consent interface supports extensive advertising and profiling activity, including cross-site profile building, device linking, precise-geolocation requests, and long-lived cookies. The available evidence does not establish whether all listed television streams are carried under authorization, making content-rights provenance a separate compliance consideration rather than a website-legitimacy concern.

- The homepage's consent-management interface covers numerous advertising and data-processing vendors and enables personalized advertising and audience measurement.
- Observed browser behavior included extensive ad personalization, cross-site profiling, device linking, precise-geolocation requests, and long-lived tracking cookies.

- The site is served from AS13335 (Cloudflare, Inc.); its DV TLS certificate was issued by WE1 and is valid to 2026-10-21.
- The homepage describes free television and webcam access and makes no financial-product, investment-return, or regulated-brokerage claim.

What to Verify Next

Institutional users should confirm that any channels selected for operational or commercial use are distributed with appropriate territorial and content permissions. Privacy teams should review the consent choices before permitting use on managed devices, particularly where geolocation, device linking, or cross-site profiling conflicts with internal policy. Organizations requiring a formal business relationship should also confirm official contact channels and contractual terms through an independently sourced route.

- The homepage lists television content from multiple countries and categories, creating jurisdiction-dependent content-rights considerations.
- The homepage offers granular advertising and data-processing preferences that can be assessed against organizational privacy requirements.
- The homepage includes an account-entry option, supporting confirmation of applicable terms before managed-account deployment.

Summary Verdict

CXTv has a high-trust posture and is assessed as a legitimate, established website with no contradictory threat or identity signals. The convergence of domain longevity, coherent service content, clean reputation evidence, and benign observed behavior supports normal interaction, including account login and standard use.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site uses Cloudflare CDN and WAF protection, with all observed addresses operating as edge servers rather than exposed origin infrastructure. This arrangement mitigates direct origin exposure and supports availability and traffic filtering, although protective infrastructure is not independently proof of legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users may engage with CXTv normally, while applying ordinary privacy-consent and content-use governance appropriate to an advertising-supported streaming directory.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about cxtv.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
