Full analysis

Overview

This website is a Lithuanian online plant nursery and e-commerce shop presenting plant, seedling, rose, hydrangea, perennial, and gardening-product listings, with prices, delivery across Lithuania, online checkout, newsletter registration, and physical pickup arrangements.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's visible content is consistent with ordinary plant retail: the homepage presents product categories, prices, a cart, delivery information, contact details, and a pickup address, while page analysis found no investment claims, credential-harvesting behavior, wallet functionality, or brand-impersonation indicators. However, this benign retail presentation is outweighed by a confirmed external blacklist designation, alongside one malicious and one suspicious reputation detection. Browser interaction also produced substantial page changes and non-whitelisted external POST activity; these observations are not, on their own, proof of malicious conduct, but they reinforce the need for a security-forward posture. The decisive contradiction is therefore reputational rather than a demonstrated phishing or impersonation page.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage and shop pages: Lithuanian plant and gardening-product listings, prices, cart functionality, delivery information, and physical pickup details.
- External reputation assessment: confirmed blacklist status, with 1 malicious and 1 suspicious detection among evaluated results.
- Browser interaction telemetry: 9,878 DOM mutations and 2 non-whitelisted external POST requests across the observed interaction set.
- Domain registration and archive record: registered 2009-11-18 (~16.77 years old); 0 archive snapshots, with archive records dated 2013-05-01 to 2026-06-06 and 14 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About, Contact, and related site pages provide a retail identity, telephone contact, social-media links, and a physical pickup address, and the available evidence is consistent with a real commercial operation. Independent identity verification is nevertheless not complete. The supplied content does not establish a licensing claim or registration number, which is a transparency and seller-verification gap rather than independent evidence of fraud. The site's transport security is valid, but the certificate uses domain validation only; this confirms encrypted transport, not the legal identity of the operator.

EVIDENCE

- Hosting telemetry: served from AS212531, Interneto-vizija - UAB "Interneto vizija", Lithuania.
- TLS telemetry: certificate issued by YR2, validation level DV, valid to 2026-11-10.
- About and Contact pages: provide a retail description, telephone contact, social links, and a physical pickup address; the supplied legal content does not establish a license or registration number.

What to Verify Next

Before any payment or account interaction, the prospective customer should independently confirm the legal seller name, business registration, physical address, delivery and returns obligations, and the receiving payment entity through an appropriate official registry or an independently sourced business channel. The listed telephone number and pickup location should be validated independently rather than relying only on information reached through the website. Account credentials should not be reused elsewhere, and payment should use a method offering dispute or buyer protection while the blacklist issue is being resolved.

EVIDENCE

- Account and checkout pages: expose login, registration, newsletter, and cart/checkout functions.
- Contact and delivery pages: describe telephone contact, delivery across Lithuania, and physical pickup arrangements.
- Site interaction: observed external requests and substantial post-interaction page changes warrant confirmation of the checkout flow before use.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is low trust with sensitive-interaction risk. Although the website presents a coherent retail operation and has a long registration history, the confirmed blacklist contradiction materially undermines confidence in using its login, credential, or payment functions.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to a single likely origin rather than a CDN edge, with no CDN or WAF identified; the hosting arrangement provides limited protective separation between the public service and its origin. Valid TLS mitigates interception risk during transit, but it does not offset the external reputation concern.

Closing Assessment

The appropriate interim posture is read-only evaluation until the seller identity, payment destination, and external reputation designation have been independently validated; login, credential submission, and payment should remain deferred pending those checks.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about daugiametes.lt at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
