Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

Drive For Life is a Portuguese-language commercial website presenting a fully online driver-safety training course for corporate vehicle fleets. It promotes structured lessons, instructor credentials, certification, fleet-result monitoring, and a free introductory module, with an apparent business model based on corporate course purchases or subscriptions.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The principal risk is not the advertised training model itself: the landing page contains coherent educational content, instructor biographies, course modules, and no observed login form, wallet function, or obvious phishing mechanism. However, external security intelligence recorded malicious detections and a confirmed blacklist hit, including a Tier-1 vendor detection. These are material contradictions to the otherwise benign presentation and warrant treating login, credential submission, payment, and other sensitive interactions as unsafe until the external findings are resolved. No conflicting legal-entity names or direct brand-impersonation indicators were observed in the supplied page content.

EVIDENCE

- External reputation assessment recorded 6 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection; Fortinet was among the flagged vendors, and the domain was recorded as blacklisted.
- The homepage presents a conventional corporate-training proposition with ten driver-safety lesson topics, instructor biographies, and no sensitive form or wallet-connection behavior.
- The domain was registered on 2017-11-23 and is approximately 8.75 years old.
- Historical records contain 34 archive snapshots spanning 2019–2026, covering 8 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available page claims that the course is certified by the Observatório Nacional de Segurança Viária and identifies an instructor as the founder of TSO Brasil. Those claims are not independently verified by the supplied evidence, and the site does not provide a verifiable license or registration number for the service. The registration record names TSO BRASIL COMUNIC. LTDA, but the operator's real-world identity remains unverified; this is a verification matter rather than an additional identity contradiction. The external broker-intelligence dataset recorded no match, but that is only contextual reputational information and does not establish licensing or regulatory standing.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage states that Drive For Life is certified by the Observatório Nacional de Segurança Viária and offers monitoring for fleet managers.
- The homepage identifies Cacá Clauzet as an instructor and founder of TSO Brasil; no license number is displayed in the supplied content.
- Registration data lists TSO BRASIL COMUNIC. LTDA as the owner.
- The site is hosted on AS47583 (AS-HOSTINGER — Hostinger International Limited, CY); its TLS certificate is DV, issued by YE1, and valid until 2026-11-05.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive interaction, the claimed certification should be confirmed directly with the named road-safety organization using contact details obtained independently of the website. The corporate operator, course-contracting entity, refund terms, payment beneficiary, and intended fleet-monitoring data practices should also be validated through independent corporate and commercial records. Any external security warning should be escalated to the site operator and hosting provider for documented remediation and re-evaluation.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage supplies the certification claim and corporate-training proposition but does not provide independently verifiable regulatory identifiers.
- The contact and commercial arrangements should be confirmed through an offline or independently sourced channel rather than relying solely on the website.
- The security detections described above require resolution before the domain can be considered suitable for sensitive business interaction.

Summary Verdict

The website has a coherent corporate-training presentation, but the confirmed blacklist status and malicious external detections dominate the assessment. Its overall posture is critical, with sensitive interaction risk and an unverified connection between the site and a real-world operator.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to a single likely origin hosted by Hostinger in Germany, with no CDN detected and no edge-IP layer identified. Its transport encryption is valid and uses a known DV issuer, which supports secure transit but does not establish that the website or its operator is trustworthy.

Closing Assessment

Passive review may continue for investigative purposes, but credentials, financial information, account access, and procurement activity should remain withheld until the certification, operator, commercial terms, and external security findings have been independently cleared.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about driveforlife.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
