Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

Eagle's Vision is an informational and marketing website presenting a faith-based business initiative that connects biblical principles with entrepreneurship, alongside a book pre-launch, event programming, participant access, and related contact information. Its apparent commercial model involves event participation, book sales, and associated services.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's homepage presents a coherent informational proposition and the supplied page analysis identified no visible deceptive content, brand impersonation, or sensitive form activity. However, this benign presentation is materially contradicted by confirmed external threat-reputation findings: the domain is blacklisted, with multiple malicious detections and additional suspicious detection activity, including flags from two major security vendors. The available evidence therefore supports a clearly elevated risk for credentials, account access, payments, or other sensitive interaction. No conflicting legal-entity names were observed, so the concern is reputational and technical rather than an established identity contradiction. Evidence:

- External reputation analysis recorded 13 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection, with the domain also listed on an external blacklist.
- The homepage is classified as a landing/informational page with no visible red flags, login form, wallet connection, or sensitive form.
- Archive provenance records 514 snapshots spanning 2004–2026, covering 23 tracked years; separate registration telemetry records creation on 2025-05-26 and an age of 1.24 years, a material provenance discrepancy requiring contextual handling.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site links to privacy and terms pages and presents a named initiative, location, telephone number, and contact channel, but the supplied material does not independently establish the real-world operator or show a license, registration number, or regulated-service authorization. Because the apparent activity concerns an event and book offering rather than a clearly regulated financial product, the absence of a license claim is a disclosure and verification gap, not by itself evidence of a scam. The available third-party broker dataset produced no name match, which provides no additional regulatory or reputational validation. Evidence:

- The homepage footer links to “Privacy Policy” and “Terms of Use,” while the supplied page text does not identify a legal entity or registration number.
- Hosting telemetry identifies AS53107, operated by EVEO S.A., BR.
- The site’s transport encryption uses a DV certificate issued by YR2, valid until 2026-10-27.

What to Verify Next

Before any payment, registration, credential submission, or event commitment, an independent party should confirm the organizer’s legal identity, the seller of record, refund and delivery terms, and the status of any applicable local business or event registration. Payment should be limited to methods offering transaction dispute and recovery protections, and official contact channels should be confirmed through an independent, offline route rather than relying solely on page-provided details. Evidence:

- The homepage promotes a book pre-launch and event-related activity, creating a payment and fulfillment exposure that should be tied to a verifiable seller.
- The site provides separate About, Program, Participant Area, Privacy, Terms, and Contact sections for cross-checking the organizer and transaction conditions.
- The supplied analysis records no verified independent identity signals for the operator.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical, with the site unsuitable for sensitive interaction on the present evidence. The coherent informational content does not offset the confirmed blacklist and malicious-detection findings, and operator identity remains unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The domain resolves directly to a single likely origin address, with no CDN or WAF detected. The hosting infrastructure is attributable to EVEO S.A. under AS53107; this provides a concrete hosting reference but does not establish site legitimacy or mitigate the confirmed reputation risk.

Closing Assessment

Interaction should remain limited to non-sensitive observation until the operator, transaction arrangements, and external reputation findings have been independently resolved.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about eaglesvision.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
