Full analysis

Overview

Estudio Migliaro is presented as a Uruguayan business-advisory firm providing accounting, tax, human-resources, legal, notarial, management, and investment-project services to corporate clients, supported by informational pages, contact forms, and articles.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's visible content is consistent with a conventional professional-services business: the homepage describes advisory services, the contact workflow does not request credentials, and testing detected no login form, hidden sensitive form, wallet connection, or suspicious browser behavior. That benign presentation is outweighed by a confirmed external reputation contradiction: three malicious and two suspicious detections were recorded, and the domain is reported on an external blacklist by more than one source. The available evidence does not establish an on-page impersonation or identity inconsistency, but the external detections create a material risk for credentials, payments, or other sensitive interactions.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and contact workflow present accounting, tax, human-resources, legal/notarial, and investment-project advisory services without a login or sensitive-data form.
- External reputation telemetry recorded 3 malicious detections and 2 suspicious detections, with blacklist status confirmed by multiple sources.
- Domain registration continuity is dated to 2017, with an age of 8.72 years.
- Web-archive coverage records 283 snapshots from 2017-11-30 through 2026-04-20, spanning 10 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The “Quiénes Somos” and “Contacto” pages identify the business as Estudio Migliaro and provide locations in Salto and Montevideo, while the homepage presents an ISO 9001:2015 claim and a broad professional-services offering. The site does not state a licensing authority or license number for its accounting, legal, notarial, tax, or investment-advisory services. That is a regulatory-disclosure gap rather than, by itself, proof of misconduct. The real-world operator remains unverified, and governance and ownership transparency are insufficiently established for regulated or financially consequential engagement. The absence of a broker-dataset match provides no independent regulatory endorsement.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage states “ISO 9001:2015” and describes the firm’s mission, quality policy, and professional services.
- The “Quiénes Somos” and “Contacto” pages provide the Estudio Migliaro name and Salto and Montevideo contact locations.
- Confirmed technical evidence shows TLS validation at DV level, issued by YR1, valid through 2026-10-07.
- The site is hosted on AS6057, Administracion Nacional de Telecomunicaciones, Uruguay.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive engagement, an independent registry check should confirm the firm’s legal existence and the authorization of any regulated accounting, legal, notarial, tax, or investment-related activity. The published business identity and contact details should be confirmed through an independently sourced telephone number, registry record, or offline referral rather than relying solely on the website. Security teams should also obtain a current reputation disposition for the domain and preserve the evidence of the confirmed external detections before permitting credential or payment workflows.

EVIDENCE

- The “Quiénes Somos” page should be matched against an authoritative corporate or professional registry.
- The “Contacto” page should be validated through an independent communication route.
- The website domain should be checked against current external reputation records before being allowed or connected to sensitive workflows.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk, driven by confirmed external threat and blacklist contradictions despite a professionally presented business profile and stable site behavior. The website’s apparent business purpose is not sufficient to support trust in sensitive interaction, and the operator’s real-world identity is not independently verified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to one likely origin IP, with no detected CDN edge or WAF layer providing meaningful origin concealment; the hosting path is AS6057, Administracion Nacional de Telecomunicaciones, Uruguay. Transport encryption is present, but a DV certificate confirms domain control only and does not establish the operator’s identity or legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Sensitive actions should remain disabled until independent identity, regulatory, contact-channel, and reputation checks are completed and the external detections are satisfactorily resolved.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about estudiomigliaro.com.uy at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
