Full analysis

Overview

The website is an established French marketplace for physical and digital eco-solidarity gift cards redeemable with more than 2,500 selected environmentally responsible merchants, experiences, restaurants, services, and charities; it also supports corporate gifting, employee-benefit programmes, donations, and partner or affiliate relationships.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, phishing indicators, brand impersonation, malicious reputation findings, or suspicious page behaviours were observed. The site's long-running domain and continuous historical record align with its current identity, with no evidence of repurposing or material semantic drift. External threat checks were clean, while the homepage presented a coherent commercial proposition without deceptive-return claims, concealed credential forms, wallet activity, or malicious scripts.

- The domain-registration record shows registration in 2018 (approximately 7.75 years old), through OVH sas, with expiry on 1 November 2026.
- The web archive contains 241 snapshots spanning 17 August 2019–14 May 2026, covering 8 tracked years; the historical analysis found no suspicious repurposing.
- The homepage contained no sensitive or hidden forms and produced no detected brand-impersonation, phishing, cryptocurrency, clipboard-hijacking, or wallet-connection signals.
- External reputation checks recorded zero malicious and zero suspicious detections, no search-engine malware finding, and no reported abuse against the assessed delivery address.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available homepage provides access to legal notices and describes customer support, fulfilment, gift-card activation, merchant selection, and Stripe payment processing. The supplied page evidence does not establish a claimed financial-services licence or display a licence number; for this marketplace model, that is a disclosure-verification point rather than evidence of deception. No matching broker profile was identified in the supplied third-party broker dataset, but that result neither establishes nor negates legal or regulatory status.

- The homepage navigation includes access to legal notices and an assistance/FAQ resource, although the substantive contents of the legal-notice page were not included in the assessed page evidence.
- The homepage identifies Stripe as the payment processor and explains ordering, delivery, activation, and redemption mechanics.

- No licensing authority, licence claim, or licence number appears in the supplied website-content record.
- The hosting infrastructure is served from AS13335 (Cloudflare); the site's DV TLS certificate was issued by WE1 and is valid until 6 October 2026.

What to Verify Next

Institutional onboarding should confirm the contracting legal entity and applicable terms directly from the legal notices, reconcile that identity with invoices and payment documentation, and review gift-card validity, expiry, refund, redemption, and merchant-failure provisions. For material corporate purchases, procurement teams should also confirm the official support channels independently and obtain written documentation covering settlement, unused balances, data handling, and service continuity.

- The homepage indicates that the service supports corporate gifts and employee-benefit programmes, creating a basis for contractual and procurement review.
- The advertised redemption network spans multiple merchant and service categories, making acceptance scope and merchant-continuity terms relevant to purchasers.
- The homepage provides assistance and FAQ resources that can be compared with the binding contractual terms during onboarding.

Summary Verdict

The website is legitimate, established, and trustworthy, with strong convergence between its coherent business presentation, sustained provenance, clean reputation, and stable observed behaviour. No contradictory security or identity signals undermine normal use. Normal interaction, including account login, account activity, and standard transactions, is appropriate.

Infrastructure Integrity

Cloudflare provides the site's CDN and WAF layer. Both observed addresses were Cloudflare edge servers, and the origin server was not exposed during the assessment; this reduces direct infrastructure exposure but is treated as a security mitigation rather than independent proof of legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users may engage with the service normally, while organisations making material purchases should apply their standard supplier-onboarding and contractual-review controls.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about ethikdo.co at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
