Full analysis

Overview

The website is the corporate presence of Freeths, a UK full-service law firm offering legal advice and representation to individuals and businesses through published practice areas, lawyer and office information, legal insights, careers content, and a first-party enquiry channel.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, phishing indicators, brand impersonation, or deceptive financial promotions were observed. The homepage consistently presents the Freeths legal-services identity, while the enquiry form remains on a trusted first-party destination and does not include a login interface or hidden submission mechanism. External reputation checks found no malicious or suspicious classification, and observed browser activity showed no cloaking, clipboard interference, wallet interaction, or unauthorized external form handling.

- The domain was registered on 31 March 2000 and is approximately 26.35 years old, supporting a long-established provenance.
- The domain has 1,073 archive snapshots spanning 11 tracked years, from 11 April 2016 to 20 June 2026; no suspicious repurposing or semantic shift was established.
- The homepage contains one first-party general-contact form, with no login form, hidden form, or untrusted submission destination.
- Reputation telemetry recorded zero malicious and zero suspicious detections, no phishing classification, no external threat listing, and no reported hosting-IP abuse.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site provides a coherent professional identity through its legal practices, named lawyers, office locations, firm credentials, privacy material, responsible-business information, and direct contact pathways. The supplied pages do not establish a specific professional regulator, registration number, or licensing reference; this is a limited disclosure-verification point rather than evidence of illegitimacy. No adverse broker-profile match was identified, although such third-party context is not a legal determination.

- The homepage identifies Freeths as a provider of personal and business legal services and presents practice areas, lawyers, offices, case studies, news, and careers information.
- The homepage links to dedicated privacy notices and presents cookie controls describing necessary, preference, statistics, and marketing technologies.

- The domain is registered through CSC Corporate Domains, Inc., with registration currently recorded through 31 March 2027.
- The site uses a DV TLS certificate issued by GeoTrust TLS RSA CA G1, valid until 8 November 2026.

What to Verify Next

For regulated onboarding or formal supplier due diligence, the firm's exact contracting entity and professional authorization should be matched against the relevant official register using the name and office details in the engagement documentation. Engagement terms, fee arrangements, privacy provisions, and payment instructions should be confirmed through independently obtained firm channels before funds or confidential case material are transferred.

- The homepage publishes multiple office and lawyer pathways that can support independent identity and engagement checks.
- The site provides legal and privacy material suitable for comparison with proposed contractual and data-processing terms.
- The general-enquiry facility is presented as a first-party contact mechanism rather than an account or payment workflow.

Summary Verdict

The website is a legitimate, established, and trustworthy corporate legal-services presence. Its consistent professional identity, long provenance, substantial historical footprint, clean external reputation, and benign observed behavior provide strong convergent support for normal use, including routine enquiries and any standard account interaction offered by the firm.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is served directly from a resolved UK hosting address rather than through a CDN or WAF edge network. This is a conventional, identifiable hosting posture; it provides less origin shielding than a reverse-proxy architecture but does not constitute a trust concern in the supplied evidence.

- The hosting infrastructure resolves to 134.213.189.200 on AS15395, operated by RACKSPACE-LON — Rackspace Ltd., GB.
- The infrastructure assessment identified one likely origin address, no CDN edge addresses, and no confirmed abusive or suspicious network behavior.

Closing Assessment

Normal interaction with the website, including standard enquiries, login, and ordinary service use, is appropriate; institutional onboarding should proceed through the organization's usual legal, regulatory, and payment-control checks.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about freeths.co.uk at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
