Full analysis

Overview

This Georgian-language corporate website presents Gemrieli as a meat-products manufacturer and retailer, offering product listings, recipes, company information, partner-store details, careers, and contact channels; its apparent business model is the marketing and sale of meat products and delicacies through retail partners and direct enquiries.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The website's pages present a coherent food-manufacturing profile and do not show a login form, payment form, wallet connection, brand-impersonation indicator, or other obvious phishing mechanism. However, this benign page presentation is outweighed by confirmed external threat detections and a blacklist hit, creating a material contradiction between the site's stated business purpose and its external reputation. The site should therefore be treated as high risk for sensitive interaction, even though the available page content does not independently establish impersonation or phishing. No identity contradiction was observed across the reviewed site content.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies Gemrieli as a meat-products brand and promotes premium meat products and delicacies rather than financial or credential-based services.
- The page-analysis telemetry recorded no login form, hidden sensitive form, wallet connection, clipboard hijacking, or password-external form.
- External reputation telemetry recorded 4 malicious and 1 suspicious detections out of 5 evaluations, with blacklist status confirmed by 2 sources.
- Registration records show creation on 2014-08-27, an age of 11.99 years, and expiry on 2027-08-28; archive records span 2021-12-04 through 2025-03-25 across 5 tracked years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About content states that the company was founded in 2010, has operated in the Georgian meat-production market for 15 years, and uses the Gemrieli and Sakhalkho brands. The site also refers to quality control, European standards, and natural raw materials, but the reviewed material does not provide an independently verifiable legal-entity registration or regulatory licence number. This is a disclosure gap requiring confirmation rather than proof of misconduct. The available identity signals connect the site to the Gemrieli name only on a likely, not independently verified, basis; the external blacklist finding remains the decisive reputational concern. A separate broker-reputation dataset returned no match.

EVIDENCE

- The About page states that the company was established in 2010 and operates under the Gemrieli and Sakhalkho brands.
- The homepage and About content present claims of quality control, European standards, and natural raw materials, without displaying a licence or registration number.
- The site is hosted on AS47810, Proservice - Proservice LLC, GE.
- The transport-encryption certificate is DV-validated, issued by YR2, and valid to 2026-10-24T14:44:13+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive engagement, an independent party should confirm that the Gemrieli legal entity named in the company's official records corresponds to the website and to the stated retail partners. Any applicable Georgian food-production, labelling, sanitary, or commercial registrations should be checked directly with the relevant authority rather than relying on the site's standards claims. Official contact and social channels should also be corroborated through an independently sourced route, and any proposed transaction should use payment protections that permit dispute resolution.

EVIDENCE

- The site provides separate About, Contact, Partner Stores, and Career pages that can be compared against independently sourced company information.
- The homepage provides product and brand claims but no displayed regulatory identifier.
- The site links to Facebook and Instagram, providing channels for independent brand-continuity checks.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is low trust with elevated sensitive-interaction risk. The site appears substantively structured as a food-product business, but the confirmed external threat detections and blacklist status prevent the available content from supporting routine trust in credential, payment, or other sensitive interactions. The real-world operator identity remains likely rather than verified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to a single origin address and has no detected CDN or WAF layer. Its hosting infrastructure is therefore a limited mitigating technical control rather than evidence of legitimacy; the valid DV certificate protects transport confidentiality but does not resolve the external reputation contradiction.

Closing Assessment

Use should remain limited to passive review until the operator, applicable registrations, retail relationships, and contact channels have been independently corroborated; sensitive interaction should not proceed without those checks.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about gemrieli.com.ge at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
