Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Kaspersky, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

glorencia.com presents a broad consumer e-commerce storefront offering physical goods across home and garden, electronics, fashion, health and beauty, furniture, and pet-supply categories. Its apparent business model is direct retail sales supported by product listings, promotional copy, testimonials, product articles, and basic customer-support links.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site itself resembles a conventional retail shop and the captured homepage contained no login, password, payment, wallet-connection, or hidden sensitive forms. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by confirmed external threat detections and blacklist listings from multiple security sources. No conflicting legal-entity names or site-level brand-impersonation indicators were observed, but the external reputation evidence creates a material risk that ordinary storefront behavior does not resolve. Sensitive activity, including credential submission, payment, or financial engagement, should not proceed on the basis of the page presentation alone.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presented retail categories, featured products, testimonials, and product articles, with no sensitive forms visible in the captured page.
- External security assessment recorded 14 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection across 20 evaluated results.
- The domain was recorded as blacklisted by two external reputation sources; a general safe-browsing check was not positive.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The supplied storefront content does not identify a licensing authority or registration number, and it provides limited detailed merchant-verification information. That is a regulatory and commercial-transparency gap rather than, by itself, proof of fraud. Domain registration uses NAMECHEAP INC, with registrant details handled through a privacy service; this is an administrative registration characteristic and does not independently establish the operator's identity. The site's identity remains unverified, while the separate external threat findings materially weaken confidence in its suitability for regulated or financially sensitive engagement.

EVIDENCE

- Domain registered on 2024-07-13 and recorded as approximately 2.1 years old; registrar: NAMECHEAP INC.
- The site's hosting infrastructure is AS60781, LeaseWeb Netherlands B.V., NL.
- TLS uses issuer YR2 with DV validation and is valid to 2026-11-01T20:09:41+00:00.
- The storefront content contains no stated license authority or license number.

What to Verify Next

Before any commercial engagement, an independent check should establish the seller's legal identity, physical business details, applicable registration status, refund and delivery obligations, and the ownership of the payment destination. Contact channels should be confirmed through an independently sourced route rather than relying solely on the site. If those checks cannot be completed, activity should remain limited to non-sensitive viewing, with no credentials, payment details, or other financial information submitted.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage supplied product and support content but no detailed merchant-verification disclosure in the captured text.
- The captured page contained zero login forms, zero sensitive forms, and no untrusted form destination.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk. Available evidence does not support treating the site as suitable for sensitive interaction, despite its conventional retail appearance and technically functional presentation.

Infrastructure Integrity

The domain resolved directly to one likely origin address, with no CDN or WAF edge detected and no separate edge-IP layer identified. The hosting environment is therefore technically attributable to a conventional data-centre provider, but that infrastructure characteristic is only contextual and does not offset the adverse reputation evidence.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users and organizations should suspend credential, payment, and financial interaction until independent merchant-identity and transaction-protection checks produce satisfactory results.

What the analysis found

2 findings contributed to this verdict, raised by registration and ownership, analysis engine, external reputation.

- 01

Governance Risk

 - Registration details are held behind a privacy service, so no operator is named publicly. This is common and legal, and it also means there is nobody to check.
Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_PRIVATE
 - The registration record withholds contact details for the operator.
Registration and ownership rule:KF_WHOIS_HIDDEN
- 02

Sensitive Interaction Risk

 - The analysis matched a pattern TrustSniffer treats as a direct threat to a visitor.
Analysis engine signal:direct_threat
 - An external threat feed lists this domain: either Google Safe Browsing marked it malicious, or a significant number of malware engines flagged it.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about gloencia.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
