Full analysis

Overview

A Russian-language entertainment website, I-Trailer presents movie trailers organized by genres including action, comedy, science fiction, drama, crime, horror, and animation, with authorization links and a catalogue of film titles; its apparent model is an informational trailer aggregator supported potentially by advertising or referral activity rather than direct financial services.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent entertainment-media purpose, shows no payment or credential-harvesting form in the supplied HTML, and contains no detected brand-impersonation indicators. External reputation checks found no malicious or suspicious detections, while the site has an established traffic footprint and sustained historical continuity. Automated interaction did record a limited number of non-whitelisted external requests and console errors, but the observed behavior did not include cloaking, hidden forms, wallet activity, clipboard manipulation, or external password submission; these signals therefore do not establish an impersonation or phishing pattern.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage is titled "I-Trailer — лучшие трейлеры онлайн!" and lists movie genres, trailers, and film titles without visible payment or sensitive-input forms.
- The site's domain was registered through RU-CENTER-RU on 2015-11-30 and is approximately 10.71 years old.
- Historical records show 153 archive snapshots from 2016-03-20 through 2026-05-13, covering 11 tracked years.
- Reputation checks recorded 0 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, and no confirmed blacklist or phishing hit.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site appears to operate as a media-content service rather than a regulated financial or payment provider. The supplied homepage does not present a corporate legal identity, licensing claim, registration number, or content-rights disclosure, so the operator and rights position remain matters for ordinary independent verification rather than established facts. This is a transparency and provenance consideration, not evidence of a scam; the available evidence remains consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website. A third-party broker-reputation dataset produced no match, but that result is contextual and does not constitute licensing or regulatory confirmation.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the service as I-Trailer and displays an authorization area, but the supplied page content contains no visible company name, license number, or regulatory authority.
- The site's hosting telemetry identifies AS29182 operated by RU-JSCIOT - JSC IOT, RU.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by GlobalSign GCC R6 AlphaSSL CA 2025, uses DV validation, and is valid through 2027-03-02.
- The homepage was successfully captured with HTTP status 200 and contains substantive navigation and catalogue content.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an enterprise user should independently confirm the operator's legal identity, the official authorization channel, and any applicable content-distribution rights. If the service introduces subscriptions, advertising redirects, or other commercial transactions, the relevant merchant identity, cancellation or return terms, and payment-protection arrangements should be checked through an independent route rather than relying solely on onsite claims.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage contains “Вход,” “Регистрация,” and “Забыли пароль?” authorization links, although no login form was visible in the supplied HTML.
- The stated business model is an aggregated trailer catalogue likely supported by advertising or referral links, with no payment request observed on the captured page.
- The site presents numerous film and animation titles but no visible rights or licensing disclosure in the supplied homepage content.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is high-trust and low-risk for its apparent informational entertainment purpose. Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website, while the real-world operator identity is not independently verified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, which provides a meaningful mitigation against direct exposure and common edge-level abuse but is not, by itself, proof of legitimacy. The observed address was a CDN edge address, and no origin candidate was identified in the supplied infrastructure analysis.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing is proportionate to the assessed posture; credential or payment use should follow independent confirmation of the operator, transaction terms, and payment protections.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about i-trailer.ru at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
