Full analysis

Overview

This is the organizational website of Instituto AOCP, presenting public-examination announcements, open registrations, ongoing and completed competitions, results, candidate services, institutional information, social projects, and contact channels. Its apparent business model is the administration of public examinations and related services for candidates and public-sector contracting bodies.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed across the supplied evidence: there are no phishing, impersonation, malicious-content, or external reputation indicators identifying the site as deceptive. The homepage presents a coherent organizational service rather than investment, cryptocurrency, lending, or unusually lucrative financial propositions; it also contains no login form or hidden sensitive form in the analyzed page. The site's long registration continuity, sustained historical presence, coherent public-examination content, and clean external reputation support an established-site interpretation, although these signals do not independently prove the real-world operator's identity.

EVIDENCE

- The domain registration record shows creation on 2010-11-29, with an age of 15.71 years and expiry on 2030-11-29.
- Web archives record 1,003 snapshots spanning 2011–2026, covering 16 years with a maximum observed gap of 1 year.
- The homepage is categorized as informational/organizational, with no detected red flags, phishing indicators, brand-impersonation finding, or hidden sensitive form.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious findings, 0 suspicious findings, 0 abuse reports, and an established-traffic placement within the top 1 million.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The “Quem Somos” page describes Instituto AOCP as a private-law, non-profit civil association with organizational, philanthropic, educational, and public-selection activities. The contact page supplies an address, telephone contact, and email channel, which supports practical transparency. The supplied content does not present a licensing authority or license number; for an examination administrator, the relevant question is therefore the organization's legal standing and authority for each specific public examination rather than a generic financial-services license. The available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate organization, but the operator's real-world identity remains independently unverified. A separate broker-context check produced no match; this is reputational context only and is not a regulatory determination.

EVIDENCE

- The “Quem Somos” page states that the organization is a private-law civil association without political or partisan affiliation and describes its mission around education, social assistance, and public selections.
- The “Contato” page provides address, telephone, and email contact channels.
- The website is served from AS13335, CLOUDFLARENET — Cloudflare, Inc., US.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by WE1, uses Domain Validation (DV), and is valid to 2026-10-04T22:57:05+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any credential or payment interaction, an independent check should confirm that the named organization is the authorized administrator for the particular examination and that any fee recipient matches the relevant public notice or contracting body. The listed contact channels should be corroborated through an independently sourced public-sector notice or an offline institutional route, and applicable candidate terms, refund conditions, and payment-protection arrangements should be reviewed before submitting sensitive information or funds.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage directs candidates to open registrations, ongoing competitions, results, and candidate-service areas, making examination-specific authorization the relevant verification point.
- The site includes dedicated “Quem Somos,” “Contato,” “Comercial,” and “Imprensa” areas that can be compared with independently sourced institutional records.
- The analyzed homepage contained one contact form and no sensitive form, so any later credential or payment request should be assessed separately at the point of interaction.

Summary Verdict

The available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website and supports a high-trust, low-risk posture for its stated organizational purpose. The conclusion is well supported by converging historical, technical, content, and reputation signals, while independent verification of the real-world operator identity remains outstanding.

Infrastructure Integrity

Cloudflare CDN/WAF protection fronts the site, and all observed addresses were CDN edge infrastructure associated with AS13335; no origin candidate was identified in the supplied resolution data. This is a mitigating infrastructure characteristic, not independent proof of organizational legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Routine informational use is proportionate, while credential or payment interactions should follow ordinary independent checks of the relevant examination, organization, terms, and payment protections.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about institutoacp.org.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
