Full analysis

Overview

Jersey Yupoo is an ecommerce listing site offering branded football jerseys, training suits, children's kits, Formula 1 apparel, hats, and related sportswear, with visitors directed toward product browsing and direct contact for quotations and wholesale orders rather than a fully transparent checkout experience.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No blacklist, phishing, impersonation, or conflicting-identity indicators were observed, so the evidence does not establish a scam or impersonation operation. The principal concern is transactional integrity: the homepage lists numerous major-club products, including Manchester United, Chelsea, Arsenal, Barcelona, Real Madrid, and PSG items, while providing limited evidence of product provenance, seller identity, shipping terms, refunds, or authorization to sell branded goods. This combination is consistent with potential counterfeit or gray-market exposure and warrants care before payment, although it is not itself proof of fraud.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presents extensive branded sportswear listings but no clear product provenance or supporting evidence for the commercial claims.
- The homepage promotes live quotations and wholesale orders through direct contact, while a verifiable business address or transparent merchant identity is not apparent.
- The domain was registered on 2025-05-20 and is approximately 1.25 years old.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site appears to operate as a physical-goods retailer rather than a regulated financial service, so the relevant verification issue is merchant identity, product authorization, and consumer-protection disclosure. The available pages do not clearly identify the legal seller or provide sufficiently clear shipping and refund terms. Identity verification remains incomplete; the site's commercial presentation should therefore be treated as evidence of an apparent business model, not proof of a real-world operator. Available external reputation checks did not identify malicious or blacklist indicators, and no matching broker-reputation record was present, but those signals do not establish legal registration or product authorization.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage is categorized as an ecommerce shop and describes branded sportswear sales, quotations, and logistics rather than a regulated service.
- The homepage does not clearly present a legal entity, business address, shipping policy, or refund policy.
- The site uses a valid domain-validated TLS certificate issued by YE1, expiring 2026-10-14 02:41:01 UTC.

What to Verify Next

Before a high-value order, the prospective counterparty should be identified through an independently sourced legal name, physical address, and verifiable business registration. Product authenticity or authorized-distributor status should be confirmed with the relevant brand or rights holder, and payment should use a method offering meaningful dispute and chargeback protection. Shipping, returns, sizing, customs responsibility, and refund conditions should be obtained in writing before funds are transferred. Official contact channels should also be confirmed through an independent route.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage's direct-quotation and wholesale-order model makes written commercial terms important before payment.
- The homepage provides insufficient independently verifiable merchant and fulfillment information for a high-value purchase.
- The absence of a login form, sensitive form, wallet connection, or external post activity in observed behavior reduces exposure to credential- or wallet-harvesting mechanisms during the assessment, but does not validate the seller.

Summary Verdict

The website has a moderate trust posture with no observed contradiction or active threat indicator, but its real-world operator identity and merchant legitimacy are not independently verified. The available evidence supports treating it as an established-looking commercial listing site whose transaction and authenticity risks remain material for prospective buyers.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to four likely origin addresses, with no detected CDN or edge-IP layer. Its hosting is provided through AS47583, AS-HOSTINGER / Hostinger International Limited, CY, with the resolved infrastructure located in Ukraine. This is a normal hosting arrangement and provides basic operational context, but hosting infrastructure alone does not establish merchant legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary browsing is reasonable, but sensitive or high-value commercial activity should proceed only after the seller, product authenticity, contractual terms, and payment protections have been independently confirmed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about jerseyypoo.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
