Full analysis

Overview

This is a local legal-services website for John M. Cook, Attorney at Law, presenting Dallas criminal-defense and personal-injury services, attorney experience, client testimonials, office information, and consultation contact details. Its apparent business model is the promotion of paid legal representation through client retainers and direct contact.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed: the evaluated pages contain no phishing, impersonation, malicious-content, or deceptive high-risk service indicators. The homepage presents a coherent professional-services purpose, including DWI defense, criminal defense, drug-possession matters, and personal injury, while the contact page provides ordinary consultation and office-contact functionality rather than a sensitive login or payment workflow. Two abuse reports were associated with a shared Amazon delivery-network IP, but that signal is specifically attributed to shared infrastructure and carries zero confidence; it is therefore not evidence of misconduct by this website.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage presents John M. Cook as a Dallas criminal-defense attorney and describes individualized case representation.
- The Attorney Profile, Practice Areas, Testimonials, and Contact pages form a consistent legal-services content set with no detected red flags.
- Domain registration records show creation on 2014-07-11 and an age of 12.12 years.
- Historical records show 78 archive snapshots spanning 2004–2025, covering 22 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site's identity presentation is internally consistent around John M. Cook and a Dallas, Texas legal practice, but the real-world operator has not been independently verified by the available evidence. The pages describe legal services and Texas-wide representation but do not display a license or registration number, leaving a limited regulatory-disclosure gap that should be resolved independently rather than treated as evidence of a scam. The site's transport security and mainstream hosting are supportive technical indicators, while the absence of a broker-dataset match is only contextual reputational information and is not a legal or licensing determination.

EVIDENCE

- The Attorney Profile and Contact pages identify John M. Cook, a Dallas-based attorney, and provide office and contact details.
- The Practice Areas page describes Texas DWI defense, felony DWI, drug possession, criminal defense, and personal-injury services without displaying a license or registration number.
- The site is served from AS16509 (Amazon.com, Inc., US).
- TLS uses issuer YR2 with DV validation and is valid to 2026-09-18.

What to Verify Next

Before a credential or payment interaction, independently confirm that the named attorney is authorized to practice in the relevant Texas jurisdiction and that the office details correspond to an authoritative professional or offline source. The engagement letter, fee arrangement, client-trust or payment instructions, and dispute or payment-protection terms should be reviewed before funds or sensitive case information are provided. Official contact channels should also be confirmed through an independent route rather than relying solely on the website.

EVIDENCE

- The Attorney Profile page supplies the professional name and practice description needed for an independent licensing-registry check.
- The Contact page supplies office details and a telephone contact that can be cross-checked independently.
- The service descriptions and testimonials are presented as site claims and should be matched to the formal engagement documentation before payment.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is high trust and low risk, and the available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate professional-services website. This classification supports ordinary browsing and normal engagement processes, but it does not independently prove the operator's real-world identity.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, with observed edge addresses on AS14618 operated by Amazon.com, Inc.; the origin server was not observable in this analysis. This architecture is a mitigating exposure-control measure, not proof of legitimacy, and no infrastructure contradiction was identified.

Closing Assessment

The site is suitable for ordinary prospective-client engagement, subject to the standard independent identity, authorization, engagement-document, and payment-protection checks appropriate for a legal-services transaction.

Written analysis generated 2026-08-21 by the TrustSniffer Analysis Engine from the evidence in this report.

What the analysis found

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about johncookattorney.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
