Full analysis

Overview

Jumper Media is an established digital-marketing and managed-services website offering local search optimization, Google Maps visibility, online reputation management, social-media management, and scalable video editing to businesses, apparently through service packages or recurring commercial engagements.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, brand impersonation, phishing behavior, or confirmed malicious reputation signals were observed. The homepage presents a coherent service portfolio supported by case studies, testimonials, company-history material, and detailed service descriptions. Claims such as reaching a top-three Google Maps position and removing damaging reviews quickly are promotional performance representations whose applicability will depend on contractual terms and client circumstances; they do not, in the supplied evidence, indicate fraud. The long-established domain, sustained archival continuity, meaningful global traffic presence, and clean external reputation collectively support the site's legitimacy.

- The domain registration record shows registration in 2016 and an age of approximately 10.56 years.
- The web archive contains 243 snapshots spanning 2017–2026, representing 10 years of tracked history with no detected suspicious repurposing or semantic drift.
- The homepage contains approximately 26,810 characters of substantive service, case-study, testimonial, and company-history content, with no detected brand-impersonation indicators.
- External reputation checks recorded zero malicious and zero suspicious detections, no web-safety hit, no abuse reports, and a global traffic rank of 577,431.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The website presents conventional business-to-business marketing and content services rather than a regulated financial product. No professional or financial-services licence is claimed in the supplied page content, and none is inherently required merely to offer the described service categories. The available evidence does not establish the completeness of the site's legal-entity disclosures, so contractual counterpart details should be assessed through ordinary vendor onboarding rather than treated as a scam indicator. Registration through GoDaddy and the use of Domains By Proxy are routine administrative arrangements and do not conflict with the site's established operating history.

- The homepage characterizes Jumper Media as a provider of local SEO, reputation support, social-media management, and video-editing services; it makes no licensing claim.

- The domain is registered through GoDaddy.com, LLC, with registration valid until 2028-01-07; the registrant record uses Domains By Proxy, LLC.
- The site's transport encryption uses a WE1-issued domain-validated TLS certificate, valid until 2026-09-03.
- No corresponding broker profile was identified in the supplied third-party broker context, which is consistent with the site's non-broker business model and is not a licensing determination.

What to Verify Next

Before entering a material commercial engagement, procurement teams should obtain the contracting entity's legal name, business address, governing-law terms, service-level commitments, pricing, cancellation provisions, and data-processing conditions. Performance representations should be translated into measurable contractual deliverables, particularly where search placement, review-management outcomes, or content-production scale influence the purchase decision. Customer references and official contact channels may also be confirmed independently as part of routine supplier due diligence.

- The homepage uses conversion-oriented "Get Started" calls to action but the analyzed page contains no embedded form, sensitive-input form, or external password submission.
- The homepage presents customer case studies across gyms, restaurants, coffee shops, and automotive businesses, providing reference points for outcome validation.
- The analyzed page reports strong customer-rating representations, including an "excellent" Trustpilot characterization and a 4.7 Google Reviews rating; these are suitable subjects for independent procurement validation.

Summary Verdict

Jumper Media presents as a legitimate, established, and trustworthy commercial website. Its coherent business identity, durable operating history, substantive service content, clean reputation, and absence of contradictory security indicators provide strong convergent support for normal business engagement.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare's CDN and WAF, with all four observed addresses belonging to edge infrastructure and no direct origin-server candidate exposed during the analysis. This reduces direct infrastructure exposure and provides a meaningful security mitigation, although protective hosting alone is not evidence of business legitimacy.

- The site is served from AS13335 (CLOUDFLARENET — Cloudflare, Inc., US).
- Four Cloudflare edge addresses were observed: two IPv4 and two IPv6 addresses; all resolved infrastructure belonged to the CDN.

Closing Assessment

Normal interaction, including account login where offered, standard site use, and ordinary commercial engagement, is appropriate, subject to proportionate vendor and contract due diligence for material purchases.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about jumpermedia.co at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
