Full analysis

Overview

The website is the Arabic-language Moroccan Ministry of Justice government portal, presenting electronic judicial services such as case tracking, court schedules, criminal-record requests, complaint submission, legal information, ministry news, court information, and citizen contact channels.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The site's government-service content, use of the `gov.ma` namespace, sustained historical continuity, and clean external security findings are consistent with an established public institution rather than a scam or impersonation operation. Behavioral telemetry noted non-whitelisted external requests and inline-script activity, but no cloaking, hidden forms, credential-collection forms, wallet activity, or confirmed brand impersonation; these observations do not establish fraudulent intent.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: identifies the institution as the Ministry of Justice and provides a substantial set of judicial services, legal resources, court information, announcements, and contact functions.
- Domain registration: registered 2003 (~22.92 years old).
- Web archive: 1,526 snapshots spanning 2000–2026 (27 years tracked), with no detected suspicious repurposing or semantic drift.
- External security checks: 0 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, and no external blacklist or phishing finding.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available pages present a coherent government and public-service identity, including ministry information, ministerial structure, judicial responsibilities, court networks, legal materials, and citizen-facing services. The real-world operator identity is not independently verified by the available evidence, so the institutional presentation should be treated as apparently legitimate and evidence-consistent rather than independently proven. A commercial license is not the relevant legitimacy mechanism for the stated public-administration model, and no commercial licensing claim or license number is presented; this is a limited disclosure consideration rather than an indication of fraud. No adverse broker-reputation match was identified.

EVIDENCE

- Government namespace: the site uses the `gov.ma` suffix, identified as a sovereign government category.
- Registrar record: registered through ITISSALAT AL-MAGHRIB.
- Hosting infrastructure: served from AS36884, Wana Corporate - Wana Corporate, MA.
- Transport security: TLS certificate issued by Sectigo Public Server Authentication CA OV R36, OV validation, valid to 2026-12-16.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an institution should confirm the domain through an independently sourced Moroccan government or Ministry of Justice directory and use contact details obtained through that independent route. For any service involving fees or personal records, the relevant service page should be checked for official processing instructions, applicable charges, privacy terms, and payment-protection arrangements before proceeding.

EVIDENCE

- Homepage: provides ministry structure, judicial-service navigation, legal resources, and citizen-service categories suitable for comparison with an independently sourced government directory.
- Contact function: the site presents institutional contact information that can be cross-checked through an offline or independently obtained official channel.
- Electronic-service pages: the portal separates case, record, complaint, appointment, and payment-related functions, allowing the requested service and its processing conditions to be confirmed before use.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate government website with a high-trust, low-risk posture. The classification is supported by converging institutional content, long-running domain and archive continuity, clean external reputation, and sound transport-security evidence, while independent operator verification remains incomplete.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to Wana Corporate infrastructure in Morocco rather than a detected CDN or WAF edge, with one identified IP and no confirmed origin-obfuscation layer. This is a neutral hosting characteristic; the identified ASN and stable TLS implementation provide useful infrastructure context but are not, by themselves, proof of institutional legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary browsing and standard public-service use are proportionate to the available risk posture, while independent confirmation of the official domain and the applicable service conditions remains appropriate before submitting credentials, personal records, or payments.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about justice.gov.ma at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
