Full analysis

Security Alert

Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

The website presents itself as the official online presence of Kratos, a symphonic dark-metal band, with sections for band information, releases, media, live activity, contact, and a store; its apparent business model is the promotion and sale of music and merchandise through linked commercial and streaming channels.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's visible content is consistent with an entertainment website and does not show a login form, credential-harvesting workflow, wallet connection, or other obvious phishing mechanism. However, this benign presentation is outweighed by confirmed external threat detections: the domain is blacklisted, and multiple security assessments classified it as malicious. No identity contradiction or direct brand-impersonation finding was observed, but the blacklist status is sufficient to make account, payment, and other sensitive interactions inappropriate unless the underlying detections are independently resolved. The public contact channel also contains the address [suspicious email address not provided in evidence]?

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the site as the official Kratos symphonic dark-metal website and provides band, discography, media, live, store, and contact navigation; page analysis found no login form or sensitive form.
- External reputation assessment recorded 11 malicious detections and a confirmed blacklist hit; a major security vendor was among the flagging providers.
- The domain registration record states creation on 2016-04-04 and an age of 10.38 years; historical coverage spans 2017-03-01 to 2026-01-25, with 10 years tracked.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site's apparent activity is music promotion and merchandise commerce rather than a financial or investment service, so no financial licence claim would ordinarily be expected. Nevertheless, the public pages do not provide a clearly identified corporate operator, registration number, or other formal business disclosure, leaving the merchant identity and contractual counterparty unclear for store transactions. This is a verification gap rather than independent proof of misconduct. The external blacklist and malicious detections remain the decisive reputational concerns; no separate broker-reputation match was identified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage, Band, Discography, Media, Live, Store, and Contact pages describe the musical act and commercial activity but do not display a licence or registration number.
- The site's transport encryption uses a DV certificate issued by YR2, valid to 2026-10-04.
- The store page presents purchase options, while the public site credits Inverse Records and other production contributors in connection with releases.

What to Verify Next

Before any transaction or sensitive interaction, an institution should independently confirm that the band, label relationship, store operator, and payment recipient are connected through trusted, offline or independently sourced contact channels. The relevant registry should also be checked if the store is operated by a commercial entity requiring registration in the applicable jurisdiction. Until the external detections and blacklist status are explained and cleared by authoritative review, activity should remain limited to passive inspection.

EVIDENCE

- The Store page is the site's principal commercial interaction surface.
- The Contact page and linked social profiles provide channels that can be cross-checked independently rather than relied upon as sole identity evidence.
- The site's visible behavior recorded no password forms, hidden forms, wallet activity, clipboard manipulation, or cloaking.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical trust risk despite the site's coherent public-facing presentation and apparently ordinary entertainment purpose. The available evidence does not support treating the domain as suitable for credentials, payments, or other sensitive interaction, and the real-world operator identity remains unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves to hosting provided by DREAMHOST-AS – New Dream Network, LLC, in the United States, on a single identified infrastructure path. No CDN or WAF was detected, so the hosting arrangement provides limited protective context; infrastructure ownership or hosting location does not establish legitimacy.

EVIDENCE

- Hosted on AS26347 (DREAMHOST-AS – New Dream Network, LLC, US).
- The resolved server IP is 69.163.141.191, with the infrastructure located in the US.
- No CDN or WAF was detected, and no separate origin candidates were identified.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users and institutions should suspend sensitive interaction until the external security findings are independently adjudicated and the transaction counterparty is confirmed through trusted channels.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about kratos.band at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
