Key findings

- Automated classification: Not Scam.
- Domain age: more than 10 years (registration continuity).
- VirusTotal and Google Safe Browsing had no flags for this domain; its hosting IP carries AbuseIPDB reports below the confidence level TrustSniffer treats as a flag.
- The operator behind the site could not be independently connected to a real-world brand or person.

Full analysis

Overview

Lottery Post is an established lottery-information and community portal providing lottery results, news, number predictions, analytical tools, forums, member blogs, jackpot information, casual games, and premium content, supported by memberships, personalized advertising, and retail links rather than direct lottery wagering.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, phishing indicators, brand impersonation, deceptive financial promises, or direct-deposit solicitation were observed. The site's long-established domain, substantial global traffic footprint, mature content base, and clean external threat reputation converge strongly with its stated role as a lottery-information and community service. Member login and registration are consistent with the portal's forums, blogs, and premium-membership model; observed forms and scripts showed no credential-harvesting, hidden-form, wallet-draining, clipboard-hijacking, or cloaking behavior.

- The domain registration record shows registration in 2000 (~26.35 years old), through Cloudflare, Inc., with expiration in 2031.
- The homepage presents results, news, prediction tools, forums, blogs, premium memberships, a bookstore, and a gift shop as coherent parts of the same service.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious detections, no safe-browsing malicious finding, and no confirmed threat-list match.
- The domain holds a global traffic rank of 8,062, placing it within the top 10,000 sites measured by the supplied traffic data.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available pages characterize Lottery Post as an informational, community, advertising, membership, and commerce platform—not as an operator accepting lottery wagers. No licensing claim, regulator, or license number was presented in the supplied content; given the documented business model, this is a disclosure point to contextualize rather than evidence of unlawful or deceptive activity. The more material consumer-governance consideration is privacy: the consent interface supports personalized advertising, device-identifier storage, precise-geolocation requests, and data sharing across a large vendor ecosystem.

- The homepage describes official-result aggregation and lottery-related information services without presenting direct wagering or deposit-taking functionality.
- The site's consent interface requests authorization for personalized advertising, device identifiers, precise geolocation, and extensive vendor data sharing.
- The site's transport encryption uses a valid DV certificate issued by YE2, valid until 2026-09-11.
- No matching broker profile was found in the supplied third-party broker dataset; this is reputational context only and not a licensing determination.

What to Verify Next

Institutional due diligence should confirm the contracting entity, governing terms, refund arrangements, and payment descriptor before purchasing a premium membership or merchandise. Privacy reviewers should examine the current consent choices, vendor list, retention terms, and mechanisms for withdrawing advertising or geolocation consent. Organizations requiring a formal regulatory determination should first establish whether the intended activity is limited to information and community access or falls within a locally regulated gaming category.

- The homepage exposes paid premium memberships and commerce links, making contractual and payment terms relevant to a purchasing decision.
- The available content identifies the service as a lottery news, results, predictions, and community portal rather than a wagering venue.
- Standard member login and registration navigation is present, while the analyzed homepage contained no sensitive or externally submitted password form.
- Two successful behavioral observations found no hidden forms, suspicious inline scripts, fingerprinting, or executable sandbox activity.

Summary Verdict

Lottery Post is a legitimate, established, and trustworthy website with strong convergence among domain longevity, audience reach, coherent site content, benign interactive behavior, and clean external reputation. No contradictory security or identity signals undermine its stated purpose, and normal interaction is appropriate.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare's CDN/WAF, with both observed addresses operating as edge servers and no direct origin exposure identified. This reduces origin-level attack exposure but is treated as a security control, not independent proof of legitimacy.

- The hosting infrastructure is served from AS13335 (Cloudflare, Inc., US).
- Two Cloudflare edge addresses were observed: 104.18.6.153 and 104.18.7.153.
- All observed addresses were CDN edge nodes; no origin-server candidate was exposed during the analysis.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users may proceed with normal browsing, account login, community participation, and standard purchases, while applying ordinary privacy and payment controls appropriate to an advertising-supported membership platform.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about lotterypost.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
