Full analysis

Overview

This is the Marsiglione website, an Argentine commercial manufacturer and dealer presenting electric generator sets, Honda and Perkins equipment, solar-energy products, pressure washers, compressors, welding machines, lawn tractors, and related technical-service and spare-parts offerings through a product catalogue and business-contact pages.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent manufacturer-and-service business model, with product categories, technical service, quality information, projects, customer information, and contact functionality rather than phishing, investment, cryptocurrency, or credential-harvesting mechanics. Available external checks found no malicious or suspicious result, no phishing or impersonation indicator, and no reported abuse signal; coverage was partial, so this is supportive rather than exhaustive evidence. The site is therefore consistent with an established, apparently legitimate commercial website, while the real-world operator remains independently unverified.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies Marsiglione as a generator-equipment business and provides business navigation for company information, products, service, quality, projects, clients, and contact.
- The homepage was observed without a login form, sensitive form, hidden form, wallet connection, external password submission, or suspicious script activity.
- Domain continuity is recorded as 1999, with an authoritative age of 26.83 years.
- Web-archive coverage records 158 snapshots spanning 1999–2026, across 28 years tracked, with no detected suspicious repurposing or semantic category change.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The company, contact, service, quality, and product pages provide the substance expected of a conventional equipment supplier, including a business address, telephone numbers, operating hours, and service information. The site does not claim a regulated financial, investment, or brokerage activity, and no license or registration number is presented; this is a transparency item for ordinary commercial due diligence rather than evidence of a scam. The available third-party broker-reputation context produced no match, but it does not establish corporate identity, licensing, or regulatory status. The site's identity is consequently apparent from its content but not independently verified.

EVIDENCE

- The contact information identifies Av. Mosconi 888, Lomas del Mirador, Buenos Aires Province, Argentina, together with two telephone numbers and weekday operating hours.
- The company and quality sections describe the supplier's business and product-quality positioning but do not state a license or registration number.
- The site's transport encryption uses a TLS certificate issued by YR1 at DV validation level, valid to 2026-11-11.
- The site is served through AS16276, operated by OVH - OVH SAS, FR.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, an interested counterparty should independently confirm the displayed merchant identity and physical address through an offline or separately sourced business channel. Any applicable commercial registration, sector certification, warranty terms, return conditions, and payment-protection arrangements should be checked against the relevant Argentine records or contractual documentation. Contact channels should also be confirmed independently before transmitting sensitive information or placing a material order.

EVIDENCE

- The company and contact pages provide the identity and address details that can be cross-checked against an independent business registry or supplier record.
- The products and service pages provide the commercial basis for requesting written quotations, warranty terms, delivery conditions, and after-sales commitments.
- The contact page supplies telephone and operating-hour details suitable for an independently initiated confirmation call.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is high trust and low risk, with the available evidence consistent with an established commercial website and no observed scam, phishing, blacklist, or impersonation contradiction. The conclusion supports ordinary website interaction, subject to routine independent confirmation of the operator behind the site before sensitive commercial engagement.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website benefits from a CDN/WAF-protected delivery layer, with the observed edge address associated with AS16276 and OVH - OVH SAS, FR; the origin server address was not observable in this analysis. This protective architecture mitigates direct origin exposure but is a security control, not proof of business legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Normal browsing and product research are proportionate; before submitting credentials or making a payment, ordinary independent checks of merchant identity, contractual terms, and payment protection should be completed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about marsiglione.com.ar at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
