Full analysis

Security Alert

Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

This website is a Brazilian online dermocosmetics storefront presenting skincare categories, branded cosmetic products, prices, customer-support details, shipping terms, installment payments, account functions, and a standard ecommerce checkout model.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

A material security contradiction is present despite the storefront content appearing commercially conventional. External reputation telemetry records a confirmed blacklist hit from multiple sources, including eight malicious detections and one suspicious detection, with a Tier-1 vendor flag from Sophos. The supplied page content does not show obvious phishing, credential-harvesting, crypto-investment, or brand-impersonation features, and the site's observed behavior showed no wallet connection, hidden sensitive forms, clipboard hijacking, or cloaking; those benign page characteristics do not offset the confirmed external detections. The available evidence therefore supports a critical sensitive-interaction risk posture, particularly for account access, credential submission, or financial activity.

EVIDENCE

- The external reputation assessment records `external_blacklist: true`, with blacklist sources identified as VT and EXTERNAL_BLACKLIST.
- Eight malicious and one suspicious detections were recorded across 14 effective evaluations; Sophos was the identified Tier-1 flagged vendor.
- The homepage presents a conventional ecommerce storefront with a single newsletter form and no detected login form, hidden form, wallet connection, or password submission to an external destination.
- The registration record lists the domain as created on 2004-01-26, with an age of 22.58 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site presents itself as Natupele Dermocosméticos and publishes product, shipping, payment, and support information, but the available evidence does not establish an independently verified operating entity or regulatory status. No license claim, licensing authority, or license number is identified in the supplied business-model evidence; for a cosmetics retailer, this is a disclosure and verification matter rather than, by itself, proof of fraud. The page-level business presentation is consistent with ordinary retail, while the external blacklist findings remain a significant reputational signal requiring treatment separately from licensing status. A registration record names Natupele Indústria Cosmecêutica LTDA, but the available identity verification remains qualified rather than proven.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage title and visible content identify the business as “Natupele Dermocosméticos” and list dermocosmetic products with prices.
- The supplied regulatory fields record no claimed license, licensing authority, or license number.
- Archive intelligence records coverage from 2006-08-13 through 2026-06-07, spanning 21 years tracked; the history is described as sparse rather than as evidence of a recent domain.
- The site's transport encryption is a DV certificate issued by YR2, valid through 2026-10-30T22:05:07+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any sensitive interaction, an institution should independently confirm that the merchant named in the registration record is the current operator, validate the business and any applicable product or ecommerce requirements through authoritative Brazilian registries, and confirm payment, refund, shipping, and customer-support arrangements through channels obtained independently of the site. Any account or payment workflow should be tested only after those checks and with transaction controls appropriate to an externally flagged domain.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides a customer-service telephone number, business hours, shipping statements, installment terms, and payment-related assurances that can be checked against independent records.
- The site exposes account, order-tracking, registration, cart, and checkout functions, creating a sensitive-interaction surface requiring validation before use.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical and unsuitable for routine sensitive interaction. The site has a plausible retail presentation and a likely, but not independently proven, connection to a real-world business; however, the confirmed external reputation contradiction governs the assessment and outweighs the otherwise ordinary ecommerce characteristics.

Infrastructure Integrity

Infrastructure records resolve the site through AS27715, Locaweb Serviços de Internet S/A, in Brazil, with no CDN or WAF detected and no identified origin-candidate set. A separate technical sensor identified AS52580, Azion Technologies Ltda., Brazil, as the serving organization; this infrastructure information confirms hosting arrangements but does not establish merchant legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Sensitive actions should remain suspended until the merchant identity, applicable regulatory position, contact channels, and payment protections have been independently validated and the external reputation concern has been resolved.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about natupele.com.br at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
