Full analysis

Overview

This website presents itself as the official website of an agricultural faculty, using a WordPress-based informational format to publish results, notices, and links to institutional WebMail services for faculty email addresses.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site's visible content is consistent with a low-interaction academic information page and does not itself display obvious fraud features, login forms, financial offers, or brand-impersonation elements. However, that benign presentation is materially contradicted by confirmed blacklist status and multiple external malicious detections. Runtime inspection also recorded non-whitelisted external requests and substantial DOM changes after interaction; these observations do not independently establish malicious intent, but they reinforce the need to treat the site as unsuitable for sensitive interaction. No conflicting legal-entity names or direct impersonation indicators were observed.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies itself as “Poljoprivredni – My WordPress Blog,” describes the site as the official faculty website, and presents results, notices, and WebMail information.
- External reputation assessment recorded 7 malicious detections and 1 suspicious detection, with the domain also marked as blacklisted.
- Behavioral testing recorded 2 external XHR requests, 2 external POST requests, 4 non-whitelisted external network events, and a maximum post-interaction DOM difference of 908 elements.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The apparent academic purpose and the “edu.rs” domain suffix provide contextual support for the site’s stated institutional role, but they do not independently verify the real-world operator. The available content does not present a licensing claim or registration number; for an informational faculty site this may be appropriate to its stated purpose, but it remains a disclosure limitation if the site is used for any service beyond institutional communication. The registration record names Stanco d.o.o. as registrar and identifies POLJOPRIVREDNI FAKULTET U KRUŠEVCU as the registrant; these records are relevant identity signals, not conclusive proof of current control. A valid domain-validated certificate confirms encrypted transport, not institutional authenticity.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage states that it is the official faculty website and links to faculty email WebMail services.
- The domain was registered on 2020-12-11 and is approximately 5.69 years old; the registrar is Stanco d.o.o.
- The site’s TLS certificate is issued by YR1, uses DV validation, and is valid to 2026-09-19.

What to Verify Next

Before any credential submission or other sensitive interaction, an institution or prospective user should confirm the domain and WebMail destination through an independently obtained faculty contact channel, such as a telephone number or directory entry sourced outside the website. The relevant academic institution should also confirm that the domain remains officially assigned to it and that the displayed contact and WebMail links are current. Any request that falls outside ordinary faculty notices should be validated directly with the institution before proceeding.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage contains no sensitive form and no embedded login form, but it does provide a WebMail link for institutional addresses.
- The displayed institutional identity and contact destinations should be checked against an independently sourced faculty directory or official administrative channel.
- The site is classified within the academic “edu.rs” namespace, while the independent identity connection remains unverified.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is critical and unsuitable for sensitive interaction. Although the site presents a plausible academic information purpose and contains no obvious on-page fraud mechanics, the confirmed adverse reputation signals materially outweigh that presentation. The site should therefore be treated as potentially compromised, misdirected, or otherwise unsafe for credentials, account access, or financial activity.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by a CDN/WAF layer, which provides a mitigating defensive control but does not establish legitimacy. The observed address was an edge address, and the origin server was not observable in this analysis.

EVIDENCE

- Hosted on AS24940, HETZNER-AS – Hetzner Online GmbH, DE.
- Observed edge IP: 162.55.0.170; country associated with the hosting infrastructure: DE.
- CDN/WAF protection was detected, with 1 observed edge IP and 0 likely origin candidates.

Closing Assessment

Sensitive actions should be withheld unless the institution independently confirms the domain, current site control, and every destination involved in the interaction.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about poljfak.edu.rs at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
