Full analysis

Overview

SH Express is a Marrakech-based logistics website presenting nationwide Moroccan parcel collection, storage, packaging, delivery, shipment tracking, administrative courier, and merchant cash-return services, with revenue apparently derived from destination-based fees published in Moroccan dirhams.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, brand impersonation, phishing indicators, or adverse threat-reputation findings were observed. The business identity presented on the homepage is coherent with its physical address, operating hours, telephone contacts, service descriptions, and Moroccan delivery tariff schedule. Its multi-year registration and continuous archival record further support an established operating presence rather than a recently repurposed domain.

- The homepage consistently identifies SH Express as a Marrakech logistics company and provides a street address at 792 Secteur Lot Askjour Socoma, operating hours from Monday to Saturday, and two telephone numbers.
- Registered 2022 (~3.61 years old) through ADK MEDIA to Mohamed Amine Oumairi; registration is valid to 2026-12-19.
- 83 archive snapshots spanning 2023–2026 (4 years tracked), with no detected semantic repurposing or suspicious historical change.
- External threat-reputation checks recorded no malicious or suspicious detections, no reported abuse, and no impersonation or phishing evidence.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The supplied homepage does not make a licensing claim or identify a regulatory authority, license number, or formal corporate-registration reference. Because the presented activity is ordinary logistics and courier commerce rather than an expressly regulated financial service, this is a limited disclosure note rather than evidence of illegitimacy. No matching broker profile was identified in the supplied third-party context, but that result has no bearing on the company's legal status as a logistics operator.

- The homepage describes parcel delivery, warehousing, packaging, order planning, tracking, administrative courier work, and merchant-fund collection, without presenting the business as a broker or financial-services provider.
- The homepage supplies detailed city-by-city delivery prices in Moroccan dirhams, providing a concrete and commercially intelligible fee model.

- The homepage's company description identifies a Moroccan operating location but does not display a corporate-registration identifier or licensing statement.
- The site's transport encryption uses a WE1-issued domain-validated TLS certificate, valid to 2026-09-22.

What to Verify Next

For material commercial engagement, counterparties should confirm the company's registered legal name and corporate identifier against the relevant Moroccan business register, reconcile the published street address and telephone channels with independent records, and obtain written terms covering custody of parcels, cash collection, remittance timing, loss, damage, returns, and dispute handling.

- The homepage advertises collection and return of merchant funds, making written reconciliation and remittance terms relevant to contractual due diligence.
- The homepage presents parcel storage and packaging services, creating a need to establish custody, liability, and insurance responsibilities in the service agreement.
- The published tariff table provides a basis for confirming destination charges, return fees, and any contractual surcharges before onboarding.
- The homepage offers shipment tracking and account access, which can be tested during a low-value initial transaction before broader operational adoption.

Summary Verdict

The available evidence supports SH Express as a legitimate, established, and trustworthy commercial website with a coherent identity, substantive operating information, continuous provenance, and a clean external reputation. Normal interaction, including account login and standard use, is appropriate, and no contradictory risk signals were identified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is served through Cloudflare's mainstream CDN and WAF, with all observed addresses belonging to edge infrastructure and the origin shielded behind that protective layer. This reduces direct exposure of the origin server but is appropriately treated as a security mitigation rather than independent proof of business legitimacy.

- The hosting infrastructure is served from AS13335 (Cloudflare, Inc., US).
- Four observed addresses were Cloudflare edge endpoints; no origin candidate was exposed during the assessment.
- The infrastructure resolved normally and was identified as trusted CDN/WAF service.

Closing Assessment

Prospective customers may use the website normally, applying standard contractual and counterparty due diligence before entrusting it with material shipment volumes or merchant cash flows.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about shexpress.ma at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
