Full analysis

Security Alert

Fortinet, Kaspersky, Sophos flagged this site in external intelligence checks, indicating elevated compromise/scam exposure that requires immediate caution.

This website is a software-download page for the Taunahi 26.2 Fabric Minecraft mod, presenting AFK automation scripts for Hypixel SkyBlock, installation instructions, feature descriptions, and a free-download model with no apparent subscription or payment requirement.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

The site presents a concrete software offering rather than a financial-service or credential-collection workflow, and the reviewed page contains no sign-up form, payment form, or detected brand-impersonation indicators. However, the homepage promotes 35+ AFK scripts, claims “up to 30M” in-game coins per hour, and advertises anti-staff and humanized-movement features intended to make automated activity appear player-controlled. Those claims create meaningful software-abuse and malware-exposure concerns, even though page-level content analysis identified no direct red-flag strings. More decisively, external threat intelligence recorded multiple malicious and suspicious detections and a confirmed blacklist result. No identity contradiction was observed, but these external signals establish a serious risk to sensitive interaction and software execution.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes Taunahi 26.2 as a free Fabric mod with 35+ AFK scripts covering farming, combat, foraging, and fishing, and advertises anti-detection behavior.
- The homepage claims “up to 30M/h,” “humanized movement,” and that server-side fingerprinting will not identify the activity as a bot.
- External reputation telemetry recorded 8 malicious detections and 2 suspicious detections, with a confirmed blacklist result.
- Domain registration telemetry records registration on 2026-08-23, with an age of approximately 0.07 years.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The reviewed site is structured as a software-distribution service, not as a regulated financial offering, so financial licensing is not evidently applicable to the stated business model. Nevertheless, the available material does not independently establish the legal operator behind the service, and no corporate registration, responsible entity, or licensing disclosure is presented in the reviewed site content. This is a material transparency gap rather than proof of fraud. The domain registrar is ST Registry; transport security is present, but a domain-validated certificate confirms encrypted transport only and does not validate the operator or software.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the service through the Taunahi mod name but does not provide an independently verified legal-entity identity.
- Hosting telemetry identifies AS214351, operated as FEMOIT – FEMO IT SOLUTIONS LIMITED, GB.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by YR1, uses DV validation, and is valid through 2026-12-14.
- The reviewed pages contain no stated license, registration number, or responsible corporate disclosure.

What to Verify Next

Before any download or execution, the software's publisher, file provenance, cryptographic hash, and release history should be validated through an independent official channel. The responsible operator should be confirmed through an authoritative business or community source, and any claims about compatibility, anti-detection behavior, and safety should be checked against the relevant game-platform rules. Sensitive credentials should not be entered into any subsequently presented page unless the service identity and channel authenticity have been independently established.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides direct installation instructions and promotes a downloadable JAR file.
- The homepage claims “zero sign-up,” “no email,” and “every feature unlocked,” leaving no on-page account or support-verification process to establish operator identity.
- The site's stated automation and anti-detection functionality creates a specific need to validate both software integrity and platform-policy compliance before execution.

Summary Verdict

The website has a critical-risk posture for sensitive interaction and software execution. The available evidence does not establish a trustworthy real-world operator, while confirmed external threat and blacklist signals materially outweigh the site’s otherwise coherent presentation. Read-only review is the only supportable use case on the present evidence.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, and the observed address was a CDN edge address rather than an independently observable origin. This provides some exposure mitigation and can support service availability, but it does not validate the site’s ownership, content, or downloaded software.

Closing Assessment

Prospective users should refrain from downloading, executing, or granting credentials to the service until independent publisher, file-integrity, and operator checks produce satisfactory results.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about taunahi.st at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
