Full analysis

Overview

Tradera is a Swedish online marketplace for buying and selling new and second-hand goods, presenting auctions and fixed-price listings across vehicles, clothing, collectibles, electronics, games, and other consumer categories. Its apparent business model is transaction-based marketplace and seller-service activity.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent ecommerce service with ordinary listings, account functionality, and transaction mechanics; it shows no phishing, impersonation, malicious-form, wallet-drainer, or other deceptive indicators. External reputation checks found no malicious or suspicious detections, supporting the conclusion that the site is legitimate and established.

EVIDENCE

- The domain registration record shows creation in 1999 and an age of 27.46 years.
- Web archives contain 5,000 snapshots spanning 1999–2024, with 26 years tracked.
- The homepage presents ordinary marketplace categories, auctions, fixed-price listings, and no sensitive external form destinations.
- External checks recorded 0 malicious detections, 0 suspicious detections, and no blacklist match.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The site's identity and business presentation are consistent with an established ecommerce marketplace, not a service claiming to provide regulated financial products. No sector-specific license claim or license number is identified in the supplied page content; this is a transparency item for regulatory scoping, not evidence of fraud. Registration privacy is an administrative detail and does not create an identity contradiction.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes marketplace activity sustained through transactions and seller services, without a financial-license claim.
- Hosting telemetry identifies AS396982, GOOGLE-CLOUD-PLATFORM – Google LLC, US.
- The site's TLS certificate is issued by WR1, uses DV validation, and is valid to 2026-09-09T12:06:44+00:00.

What to Verify Next

For regulated procurement, confirm whether the intended transaction or service category requires any separate registration or licensing. Before material purchases, review the applicable listing, seller, payment, and dispute terms through the site's current account and legal workflows.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage provides account creation and login controls as part of the normal marketplace workflow.
- The homepage includes vehicle listings with stated prices, auction deadlines, and purchase options.

Summary Verdict

Tradera presents a high-trust, established, and legitimate website posture with strong convergence across its identity, content, history, technical stability, and external reputation. Normal interaction, including login, account actions, and standard marketplace transactions, is appropriate.

Infrastructure Integrity

The available hosting evidence indicates CDN-classified delivery on mainstream cloud infrastructure, providing a mitigating resilience and edge-delivery characteristic. This infrastructure supports service continuity but is not, by itself, proof of legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Standard account use and marketplace participation are appropriate, with ordinary transaction-specific checks remaining sensible for higher-value purchases.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about tradera.com at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
