Full analysis

Overview

This website presents itself as the official online presence of Universitas Indonesia, providing information on academic programmes, admissions, research and innovation, campus services, institutional structure, news, and public contact channels. Its apparent purpose is informational and institutional rather than direct online commerce or financial activity.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No confirmed threat-list, phishing, malware, impersonation, or conflicting legal-entity signals were observed. A name-similarity signal associated the short name with “ui.com,” but this is not treated as an impersonation finding because the website’s university-focused content and academic domain context are consistent with the stated institutional purpose. The site also has a strong, continuous historical presence and clean evaluated external-reputation results, supporting a low scam and impersonation risk assessment.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage identifies the institution as Universitas Indonesia and presents academic, research, admissions, campus, and organisational content without detected fraud indicators or sensitive forms.
- The domain was registered in 1998 and is approximately 27.67 years old.
- Web-archive records contain 5,000 snapshots spanning 1998–2024, with 27 years tracked.
- Evaluated external reputation checks reported no malicious or suspicious detections, and the domain has a strong global traffic footprint.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The About and organisational sections make a clear institutional identity claim and describe university leadership, faculties, academic services, admissions, research, and campus operations. The available evidence is consistent with an established academic institution, but the real-world operator identity has not been independently verified; the on-page identity claim should therefore not be treated as conclusive proof of legal ownership. No financial-service or broker licensing proposition is presented, and the available third-party broker context contains no matching record. The absence of a financial licensing claim is appropriate to the informational university business model, while formal institutional affiliation remains a matter for independent confirmation.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage and About/Structure content identify Universitas Indonesia and describe its leadership, faculties, academic services, and research functions.
- The site's transport encryption uses a DV certificate issued by Sectigo Public Server Authentication CA DV R36, valid to 2027-02-03.
- The hosting record identifies AS3382, INDONESIAUNI-AS-AP - University of Indonesia, ID.
- The evaluated broker-context dataset returned no matching record.

What to Verify Next

Before credential or payment interactions, independently confirm that the relevant admissions or service process is operated through the institution's official channels. Applicable fee, refund, and payment-protection terms should be reviewed, and any payment destination should be checked against independently sourced institutional information rather than relying solely on page content. For sensitive account activity, the official contact channels should be confirmed through an independent route.

EVIDENCE

- The contact section publishes public institutional contact channels and a telephone contact.
- The site includes dedicated Admissions and Education Fees sections for processes that may involve payments.
- The homepage analysis found no login form, hidden sensitive form, or external password-submission form.

Summary Verdict

The overall posture is high trust and low risk. Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate institutional website, while independent linkage to the real-world operator remains unverified.

Infrastructure Integrity

The supplied infrastructure record does not establish a specific CDN/WAF arrangement or origin-IP protection posture. No legitimacy conclusion is based on protective infrastructure, and the confirmed transport-encryption and hosting facts are treated as technical integrity signals rather than proof of identity.

Closing Assessment

Normal informational use is proportionate; before submitting credentials or making payments, independent identity, applicable terms, and payment-protection checks should be completed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about ui.ac.id at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
