Full analysis

Overview

Uralprombank's website is the public banking portal of a Russian bank, presenting retail and business customers with deposits, loans, mortgages, cards, payments, investment management, foreign exchange, precious-metal services, offices, customer support, disclosures, and anti-fraud guidance.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent banking identity, conventional financial products, physical offices and contact details, customer-protection guidance, and no detected phishing, malware, impersonation, or blacklist indicators. Its established historical continuity and clean external reputation support the conclusion that the site is genuine rather than a newly created imitation.

- The domain was registered in 2002 and is approximately 23.92 years old.
- Web archives contain 501 snapshots spanning 2004–2021, covering 18 tracked years.
- External reputation checks recorded zero malicious and zero suspicious detections, with no blacklist or phishing hit.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The homepage identifies the institution as Uralprombank and presents a Russian Bank of Russia license reference, alongside disclosures, public offers, product documentation, and physical contact information. The licensing reference should be treated as a substantive on-page disclosure, while formal regulatory status remains a matter for registry confirmation rather than a finding of misconduct. The site's conventional banking model and transparent service descriptions are consistent with an established financial institution.

- The homepage includes a Russian Bank of Russia license reference and dedicated disclosure content.
- Product pages provide public offers, card-service rules, banking-account documentation, and mortgage risk disclosures.
- The site's transport security uses an OV certificate issued by GlobalSign RSA OV SSL CA 2018, valid through 2027-01-22.
- The site is served from AS21023, operated by UPB-AS – Joint Stock Company Ural Industrial Bank, RU.

What to Verify Next

Confirm the institution's current authorization and license details against the relevant Bank of Russia registry before relying on regulated services. Independently validate contact details through an official offline or previously established channel, and review the applicable public offer and product-risk documents before material transactions.

- The homepage provides the licensing reference needed for registry comparison.
- The contact and branch pages provide the institution’s published service channels and physical locations.
- The product documentation identifies the contractual terms governing accounts, cards, deposits, and lending.

Summary Verdict

The website has a high-trust posture and is assessed as a legitimate, established banking entity. The convergence of coherent institutional content, long-term continuity, clean reputation signals, and validated organizational transport security supports normal interaction, including account login and standard banking use.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves directly to a single origin address in Russia and is hosted on AS21023 by UPB-AS – Joint Stock Company Ural Industrial Bank; no CDN or WAF was detected. Direct institutional hosting provides a consistent infrastructure relationship, while the absence of an intermediary edge network is simply an architectural characteristic rather than a negative trust signal.

Closing Assessment

Normal account access and standard banking activity are appropriate, subject to the usual review of transaction terms and confirmation of current regulatory details for regulated services.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about uralprombank.ru at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
